STORMS AND HURRICANES.

Great Destruction of Property in Ohio.

A NUMBER OF PERSONS DROWNED IN WISCONSIN.

The Steamer Mountaineer Nearly Wrecked.

Ohio.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—The like of the storms of the past three days has seldom, if ever, been seen in the State of Ohio or Indiana. Hurricanes and tornadoes with floods of rain have followed each other in rapid succession. Our city and its immediate vicinity have escaped the fury of these storms. The country north of this parallel in Indiana and Ohio has suffered severely. These furious storms passed over it on the 2d, 3d and 4th instants. The telegraph wires have been generally prostrated. At Springfield, Ohio, it is reported that the telegraph poles had been blown across the turnpike so thickly in some places as to entirely obstruct travel. East of Springfield, on the P. and A. telegraph line, there were two hundred poles down. Some of them were struck by lightning and others prostrated by the wind. Passengers from Logansport say the storm yesterday leveled trees nearly all the way from Logansport to Richmond, Ind. In Richmond trees were blown down in the streets. One fell across an express wagon, breaking both shafts down and crushing the wagon.

At Troy, Ohio, a large cordage factory was unroofed. On this side of Troy on the line of the Duluth & Michigan Railroad, houses were seen tumbling down, fences prostrated, trees uprooted, fields of grain leveled, corn fields flattened, and in some instances the corn is uprooted. Everywhere the fields seemed like lakes of water. On the Zanesville road five bridges were washed away. A number of feet of the railroad track have been washed away. Some prostration of trees and devastation of crops is reported in this section of country, as well as that farther west.

At Port Washington, O., about twenty miles east of Columbus, a severe storm of wind and rain occurred last night, uprooting trees and unroofing houses. At Cedarville, O., near Xenia, great numbers of telegraph poles have been splintered by lightning. At Washington, Ind., the storm was exceedingly fierce. Sheaves of wheat were scattered about wildly, and carried many feet in the air. Everywhere the belt north of this city was affected by the storm, whose centre seemed to be a few miles south latitude. At Columbus the testimony agrees as to its severity and destructiveness. The general prostration of telegraph poles is without a parallel in the history of the Telegraph Company. An alarmingly large number were shivered to pieces by the lightning and totally destroyed. Many others were partially destroyed, and many prostrated by the wind.

CINCINNATI, July 6.—An Enquirer special from Athens reports immense damage to crops in that vicinity by the recent storm. The salt works of Joseph Herrill were damaged to the amount of ten thousand dollars, and other works of the kind were also damaged. The White Water Valley Railroad has suffered near Elizabethtown, Ohio. Reports from all quarters represent great damage to crops, orchards, and forests.

Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, July 5.—The terrible storm which swept over Wisconsin yesterday proved very disastrous to pleasure parties. At Green Lake a number of pleasure seekers were on the water when the storm struck them and capsized their boats and twenty souls were sent into eternity. The following are the only names that could be obtained: M. C. Russell and daughter, from Berlin, Wis.; Jennie Olin, a child of Mrs. Allen, Mrs. A. P. Carman, Mrs. Geo. Harding, Wm. B. Laxhum, wife and child, and Mrs. John Bain, all from Dartford.

MILWAUKEE, July 5.—A terrible storm broke upon this city at noon yesterday while the Fourth of July festivities were in full blast and our beautiful bay was covered with yachts and small boats filled with pleasure seekers, among whom were ladies. The yachts Louise and Lone Star were capsized. The inmates received a severe ducking. Some narrowly escaped drowning. Trees were uprooted, signs, flags and awnings dancing in the air, while loud peals of thunder and flashes of lightning followed in succession. All passed over in half an hour, without loss of life.

This evening the sad news reached us from Green Lake, a beautiful shoal of water near Ripon, already famous as a summer resort, that the sailing yacht P. B. Harshaw capsized. The following out of a party of twenty who were on board were lost: Mrs. A. P. Carman, Hartford; Mrs. McKussell and daughter, Berlin; Jennie Olin, Dartford; Mrs. George P. Harding and child, of Rio, and Alin, of Dartford.

A rowboat also capsized and the occupants, W. Blexheim, wife and child, and Mrs. John Baird, of Dartford, were all drowned.

Fond Du Lac (Wisconsin) reports that the tornado damaged grain throughout Green, Fond Du Lac and Sheboygan counties to a great extent. Its course was from the northwest to the southeastward, five miles wide. Grain, timber, barns and fences were blown to the ground. In Fond Du Lac City many buildings were unroofed and a vast number of large poplar shade trees uprooted. On the Milwaukee and Northern Railroad trains were very much delayed by fallen trees. Over eighty had to be cut from the track before trains could pass. An engineer on the passenger train yesterday saw the tornado approaching, put on a heavy pressure of steam, and got into a clearing ahead of it. Hundreds of acres of grain are prostrated along the course of the storm.

The reported loss of life on Elkhart lake proves to be false. A number of trees were blown across the track between Milwaukee and Brookfield on the Milwaukee and Prairie Du Chien road. Aside from the disaster at Green Lake, it is a remarkable fact that no lives were lost as far as heard from.

Missouri.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., July 5.—A terrific windstorm, amounting almost to a tornado, passed over the city last evening between seven and eight o'clock. The steamer Mountaineer was lying at the bank above the bridge, secured to the railroad track and other fastenings by eight cables, two of which were new and four and one-half inches in diameter. At the first big blow the lines parted, after tearing up a portion of the railroad track, and the steamer turned her head to the stream. The wind kept her close to the St. Joseph shore, and she drifted down and struck the east end of the bridge draw. Several of the iron guys of the bridge were sprung from their bolts, and the damage to the bridge is from $8,000 to $10,000. It will require twenty days to make the repairs. The Mountaineer was terribly wrecked in the forward part of the upper works, and the hurricane deck was smashed up clear to the cabin. The freight hoister was ruined and chimneys knocked down. The loss to the vessel is about $20,000. At the time of the accident the first mate, first clerk, first engineer, steward, with a number of the deck crew were on watch, but none were injured. The Mountaineer belongs to the Missouri Packet Company, and was built in 1866 at a cost of $51,000.

The steamer Elkhorn, moored below the bridge, broke loose and floated five miles down the river, when she lodged and was brought up this morning. She was damaged to the extent of five hundred dollars.

The tornado took off the roofs of several houses in this city, and did much damage in the way of uprooting shade trees.

CHERRY TREE, PA.

Independence Day—The Coming Harvest—Health, &c.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CHERRY TREE, July 5, 1873.

The citizens of this part of the country still continue the time honored custom of celebrating the Fourth of July. Yesterday the people of Cherry Tree, joined by the country people for several miles in all directions, met in a grove on the banks of the Susquehanna river, just outside of town limits, where the day was spent quite pleasantly, old and young joining in the festivities.

Among the prominent features of the occasion were the reading of the "Declaration of Independence of 1776," by Kate Moore, our College Music Teacher; a very suitable address by Prof. J. A. Gerhard, of Cherry Tree College; an extempore address by S. F. Crowther, pastor of the Methodist church, and prayer by the same, invoking the continued blessings of the God of our fathers upon the nation and people.

The country looks beautiful here now. Grass and grain, a fair crop, are almost ready to harvest. Oats, corn and potatoes are coming on promisingly, and everything puts on a corresponding cheerfulness. The people are blessed with general good health.

The weather is rather fickle at present. We have rain almost daily, though not in quantities to do harm. It is excellent growing weather.

Business is about as usual at this season.

Our college and village schools are in successful operation. Will suspend in a few days for a vacation of two weeks. Yours, &c. C.

THE San Francisco Bulletin says: "The latest compiled returns of the wheat crop in this State show an estimated yield for the ensuing harvest year of over 13,000,000 centals. It is now given out that the surplus for export will be full as large as for the past year. The system of compiling returns of the yield of the cereals by the various agricultural societies and granges of the State is a new feature, and deserves to be encouraged. It is fortunate that these returns have been published thus early in the season, so that they may have their influence in attracting tonnage to this port."

THE Shah, according to a letter from St. Petersburg, held a dispute in that city with some learned Russians, as to the etymology of the Russian Emperor's title, maintaining that Czar comes, not from Cæsar, but from Shah.

STATE NEWS.

WHOOPING COUGH in Waynesburg.

BERKS county farmers are hay-making.

SQUIRREL shooting is the present favorite rural sport.

WAYNESBURGERS are howling for postal cards with which to "put on city style."

BROOKVILLE, Jefferson county is metropolitan. It now has a railroad communication with the rest of mankind.

SEVERAL farmers in the neighborhood of Williamsburg, Blair county, recently lost several valuable horses by epizooty.

BEDFORD is another town that would be "the most beautiful in the State," if it was "fixed up," the local paper says. That's it—the "fixing up"; would the play be worth the candle.

THE agricultural prospects in the Middle and Eastern Pennsylvania do not promise much of a return this year, beyond what will be needed for the maintenance of each respective community.

THE York True Democrat tells of a dog in the "chinquapin" region of that county who dug eleven days after a ground hog. He struck water, and the hole has been walled up to be used as a well.

PARNASSUS is a thriving little town situated on the line of the A. V. R. R., and some nine miles below Freeport. A number of fine buildings have been put up this season and others are in course of erection.

No other county in the State furnishes the eastern markets with as many good horses as little Greene, says the Waynesburg Messenger. From all other parts of the State comes the information that that fellow is a 'little green.'"

THE late heavy rain stroms have done more or less damage to crops in certain sections of Fayette county. The corn planted on hillside fields has in some instances been washed completely out and deposited by the road sides.

THE Messenger says: "In passing over the old plank road from Washington to Prosperity, one will pass many most magnificent fields of wheat. The wheat along that splendid valley is as good, as a general thing, as we recollect to have seen."

THE Cumberland Times says: "It is said that the Bedford Springs will be sold at the end of the season to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, by the present owners for $350,000;" and the Bedford Enquirer wants to know who said so.

A DESTRUCTIVE fire occurred in Dale City, Somerset county, last Thursday, causing a loss of about twenty thousand dollars. The fire originated in the garret of Mr. S. D. Livingood's large building among some old rags stored there.

"OVER in Lancaster, according to the West Chester Republican, they send a man around with a lantern to find the lamp posts when he wants to shut off the gas. We also hear from another source, that they use old-fashioned watering pots to sprinkle the streets.

ON Monday the boiler in the engine house at Daniel Burley's iron ore washer, about a quarter of a mile from Kline's corner in Longswamp township, exploded, instantly killing a son of Mr. Wm. Yorgey, aged twelve years, and severely wounding the engineer, Mr. Henry Bower. Two mules were also killed.

THE school directors of Connelsville have reelected the following persons for the ensuing session, viz: S. E Espy, principal; A. S. Cameron, teacher of room No. 5; Miss Mary Canon, teacher of room No. 4; Miss T. H. Jones, teacher of room No. 3; Miss L A. Carothers, teacher of room No. 2; Miss L J. Cameron, teacher of room No. 1.

A LAWYER at Hollidaysburg gets mad and uses secular language whenever you mention that little incident, of him attending a "hop" and being in the enjoyment of a schottish, in which himself and the belle of the evening were partners, when his suspenders gave way, letting his pants slip to the floor much to the astonishment of himself and the company.

THE Reading Times is responsible for the "snakiest" story we have seen for a long time. It says: "We are informed that a man named Allison killed a black snake, on Saturday, on the road between Joanna and Morgantown, which measured sixteen feet in length and eighteen inches in circumference. The Conestoga valley is again becoming prolific in the snake business. Next."

A CHILD of Mr. Isaac Meals, of Concord township, Blair county, aged but twenty months, on Tuesday of last week, ate and swallowed between sixty and seventy percussion or gun caps the parents dosed it with the white of eggs, sweet milk and lard, which caused it to throw up, by count, forty nine caps; some of them were pretty well chewed up and flattened, but some were nearly whole in their original form. It still lives.

A LITTLE "unpleasantness" occurred in one of McKeesport's hotels on last Saturday evening. During the melee the colored cook received a whack over the nose from one of the participants. The indignant colored "pusson" repelled the insult by stepping out into the yard and inviting the perpetrator to come out, promising that she "would put a head on him in 30 seconds by the watch, shuah." The "W. B." took her word for it, and didn't go.

The Baggage Smasher Once More.

We gather from our exchanges that the potato bug has begun its annual operations; that flies are going to be a greater pest than ever; that the season is to be an extraordinary one for the development of the mosquito; and that grasshoppers are eating everything up in the West. Plans innumerable are suggested for the extermination of these pests, but none as yet seems to have found favor. These things must be expected to come in with the summer season, which would lose half of its interest without them. Another pest has also made its seasonable appearance, simultaneously with the higera to the watering places, and that is the baggage smasher against whose depredations a wail of agony is going up from one end of the country to the other. This monster has developed into a creature of extraordinary destructiveness and defies extirpation. We read of one whose haunt is between Philadelphia and Cape May, who, it is claimed, can take a Saratoga trunk by the handle and pull the entire side out without a seeming effort, and go about his business as though he were not the least bit proud of his achievement. Unfortunately for him, the owner of the trunk was seized with a frenzied ambition to pull this baggage smasher's ears off, and had nearly succeeded when he was interrupted. We are very sorry he was not permitted to continue, as he might thereby have discovered the long-desired remedy against the further encroachments of this untiring and devoted encourager of the trunk trade.

Latest Female Ornaments.

The last sweet thing in ear-rings is a pair of oxydized silver buckets suspended from a golden wheel; the latest novelty in brooches is a combination of two wheels revolving in opposite directions around a diamond centre. The happy young woman who decorates herself with these unique ornaments will surely be irresistible. What masculine heart would be safe for an instant in the presence of a gentle maiden from whose ears depended miniature likenesses of the old oaken bucket, endeared by childish memories, and who wore at her throat the counterfeit presentment of the mill-wheel which was one of the fetishes of his boyhood? Aphrodite rising from the irridescent sea foam, Sabrina knitting the loose train of her amber-dropping hair with lilies, or Undine gazing through her filmy fountain veil, would vainly contest dominion with a mortal thus arrayed, and no question of good taste should deter jewelers from manufacturing such articles, or cause ladies to hesitate in compelling some masculine being to purchase them immediately. What if an ornament be absurd and ugly and disfiguring, if it be new?—Boston Globe.

Evil Effects of Tea Drinking.

Who ever thought of tea as a cause of national demoralization? Very few, we fancy, and those few not tea drinkers. Mr. Matthew Browne, nevertheless, an English writer, well known on both sides of the Atlantic, has made a savage raid upon the cup that cheers but not inebriates. He would overturn all the tea tables in the kingdom, and leave every old maid—mistress of herself though china falls or not—without her usual watery stimulus. Mr. Browne thinks that the evil effects of tea drinking may be as great as the evil effects of dram drinking, though not so obvious. He quotes authorities in support of his position. England, he says, is not what she once was. She has degenerated; her brave peasantry, the country's pride, are crossing the ocean, or clamoring for better food, higher wages, more comfortable accommodation. Where is English honesty, he asks? Drowned in the teapot, he answers. As for himself, when the tea importation is forbidden, he desires to be notified, so as to lay in a stock, as he is fond of tea. The whole is a squib at prohibitory laws, and would suit the beer question in Massachusetts admirably.

A Desperate Character Killed.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—At Owingsville, Ky., on Thursday, Wm. G. Satterfield was placed on trial for burning that place last April. While one Hayden was testifying in regard to being employed by Satterfield to burn the place, Satterfield and his friends rushed towards him with revolvers in hand. Several determined citizens interfered and averted a collision. The court then adjourned till yesterday. Yesterday Satterfield and his friends rode into town, armed with double-barreled shot-guns and revolvers, and were met by Hoon, the jailor, and other citizens. Hoon fired at Satterfield, killing him instantly, when the rest of the party fled. Satterfield has been regarded as a dangerous, desperate character, and his death is not much regretted by law-abiding citizens.

Boiling Well.

There is a very reasonable fear in the California miners to go down very far into the earth in some parts of the State. They do not know what unpleasant places they may reach. One Company has bored four wells in the vicinity of the desert near White Plains. In one, at the depth of forty-five feet, it became so intolerably hot that the men engaged in sinking were compelled to desist. By the aid of machinery, however, a depth of eighty-two feet was attained, when a stream of water boiling hot was reached. This immediately rose several feet in the well, and continues to boil incessantly. This well, probably the only one in which boiling water was ever found, is situated a few miles from White Plains Station, on the Central Pacific Railroad, between the Sink of Humboldt and Wadsworth.

AN AMERICAN TICHBORNE.

Interesting Case Developed in Oregon

A very interesting case has recently been developed in Oregon, which in some respects is parallel to the English Tichborne case. Both the motive and the means are the same, although the romance of the English case is wanting, and the American claimant has not wandered so far as the butcher. Orton, nor has he been the hero of so many adventures. Curiously, also, the result thus far has been similar. The English claimant is now on trial for perjury: the American claimant has also been indicted upon the same charge. The facts are about as follows: In 1816, a man by the name of Joseph Thomas married Elizabeth Caruthers in Tennessee. Two years afterwards Thomas abandoned his wife and two children. The wife then resumed her maiden name, and in the course of a few years emigrated to the banks of Willamette River, near Portland, Oregon, where the family took up some land. In course of time they became wealthy, partly by the increase in the value of the land and partly by trading. The mother died in 1850 and afterwards the children. They had reported that the father was dead, and that they had no relatives in America. Meanwhile, the relatives had lost all track of the family, and did not learn anything of the property until several claimants appeared. All of these claimants, however, were demurred out of court, one after the other. In 1870, a desperate attempt was made to get possession of the property by three men in Oregon, W. C. Johnson, a lawyer; J. M. Moore, and Green C. Davidson. These men went to St. Louis, and found a man in that city, named Joseph Thomas, or "Wrestling Joe," who was making a living by selling pies on the levee. They dressed him up, and had his photograph taken. They then got a deed from him for the property, which was acknowledged in St. Louis, the parties affirming that they knew "Wrestling Joe," and vouched for him. They then took him to Portland, where they filed the deed and instituted legal proceedings to maintain their claim. They claimed the entire Carruthers property, and "Wrestling Joe" swore that he was the father of Finice, the daughter of Mrs. Carruthers, and that he had been reduced to beggary. The real heirs, however, swore point blank that "Wrestling Joe" did not answer the description of the real Thomas, either in age or in any particular of physique. Public opinion, as in the Tichborne case arrayed itself for and against the claimant, and eminent lawyers were employed on both sides. The case, however, eventually reached an unexpected denouement, as appears from a letter from ex-Gov. Gibbs, of Oregon, recently received by R. Hinckley, Esq., of Belleville, Ill., from which it appears that "Wrestling Joe" has been proven to be one Davidson, who broke jail in St. Clair county, Ill., in 1825; that he turned up in Alabama in 1834, where he went by the name of Nixon, and that he married and raised a family there. The Alabama wife appeared in Portland, whereupon the old man confessed his share in the fraud. The tables are now turned, and "Wrestling Joe" and his fellow-conspirators have been indicted, and must stand their trial for perjury. And thus ends the American Tichborne case. Meanwhile, no one seems to know whether the real Joseph Thomas is alive or dead, so that the case is still involved in mystery.—Chicago Tribune.

A DISAGREEABLE CUSTOMER.

Adventure with a Wildcat.

An unusual and very exciting contest took place at the ranch of Ramon Feliz, on the Morro Creek, about fourteen miles from this place, one morning last week. It seems that Mr. Feliz in the morning went out to feed his stock, and soon after was startled by the cries of his wife and family. Running to the house, he found that a large wildcat had seized his youngest child, an infant, by the back of the neck, and was making off with it. After a severe struggle, he succeeded in rescuing it, the cat making its escape. Some time after the excitement had subsided, an Indian boy, about eighteen years old, went out to bring in some horses that had been staked out over night some distance from the house. He had been gone but a few minutes when the family was again aroused by the cries of the boy, who came rushing forward toward the house, yelling like a madman, with the identical cat that had caused the first disturbance firmly seated upon his back, with its teeth imbedded in the back of his neck. Another desperate battle ensued, which resulted in favor of the cat, which successfully defeated the whole Feliz family, killed their two dogs, and retreated in good order to the house of Mr. E. M. Howe, under which he ensconed himself, defying all efforts to dislodge him until night, when he escaped unseathed. The wounds received by the Indian boy were quite severe, and the people, fearing that the cat was mad, thought best to scarify the wounds, which they did by heating a crowbar, the only implement about the premises that would answer the purpose. Considering the ordeal of scratching, biting and singeing the boy passed through, he is doing remarkably well, and will be all right again in a few weeks.—San Luis Obispo (Cal.) Tribune.

Curious Will Case.

The Troy Times relates the following concerning a well-known citizen of that place who in 1845 married an estimable lady there: "For a while they lived happily together, but on account of family dissensions in 1848 they signed an agreement that they would live apart. The fruit of their union was a daughter, who remained with the mother. Some time after the husband, presuming he had been legally divorced, married again, and shortly thereafter his wife followed his example. In time the gentleman's second wife died, leaving him a son, and a few years ago he again married. The first and third wives are still living, but a few days ago the gentleman died, leaving the bulk of his property, amounting to $35,000, to his last wife and family, consisting of two children. Since the death of the gentleman it has transpired that, not having been divorced from his first wife, he committed bigamy in marrying again. The first wife will now bring an action, through counsel, to break the will, which has not yet been presented for probate. She claims that when the will was made, her first husband was not in his sound mind, and that undue influence was exerted over him. She will claim dower in all real estate transactions, and has engaged counsel to prosecute her claim in behalf of herself and daughter, the latter being also married. All the persons are of the greatest respectability, and the case is a very hard one for all concerned."

Statistics of Labor.

The Stockholder has been overhauling the census volumes to some effect, and has made a careful examination of the statistics of labor. It gives the following table of the persons employed and the product per head in agriculture, manufactures, mining and fisheries in the United States:

	Persons employed.	Product per person.
Agriculture	5,923,471	$413
Manufactures	2,053,996	849
Mining, quarrying, &c.	154,328	896
Fisheries	20,504	461

Total net product....$4,389,214,408

Average product per head in all pursuits....$532

In his speech at the Cobden Club, in England, the other day, Mr. Wells said that if the production of the country was divided among the people, the average per head would not exceed $175. The Stockholder infers, from the various figures it gives, that, taking into consideration the cost of living, capital employed, the cost of superintendence, and all other elements, agricultural labor is more productive than any other in the country. It also regards labor as more profitable in the country than in any other part of the world.

Mutilated and Filthy Notes.

Everybody knows that the national bank note currency is in a fearfully mutilated and dangerously filthy condition, and indeed the greenback currency is little better. The whole batch needs renewal, and but for differences between the Treasury and the banks as to which should be at the expense, would have been more generally renewed long ago. The better class of national banks have been renewing as fast as mutilated bills of their own issue were returned to them; but, scattered over the whole Union as these bills are, the progress in renewal is slow. Preparations for the work, however, as authorized by Congress, have been commenced, and we may now reasonably hope for some good results visible. An appropriation by Congress of $600,000 will be likely to keep the purpose in mind until accomplished. Of the national bank notes, the bills of the smaller denominations—fives, tens and twenties—will be first printed, and will probably occupy some three months of time in the preparation.—Phila. Ledger.

Abusing the Confessional.

The Italian News says: "A young man of gentlemanlike exterior, in a moment when the Church of St. Vitalo was nearly empty, entered the confessional box and shut himself in, awaiting some applicant for confession. A young lady soon after knelt down and began her confession. But the sachristan, knowing that the priest of that particular confessional was away from Rome, suspected a trick and ran to call some priests in the church; they immediately went to the box, opened the shutters, and lo! found the gentleman hearing the confession of a pretty girl. The horror was general, but that of the young lady great in the extreme. The young man said he had entered the box with the intention of having a little rest, as he felt sleepy. Measures have been taken to denounce his conduct to the authorities for excommunication, and the young man was exceedingly glad to escape with so little punishment.

A Vast, Undeveloped Store House.

There are three countries in which the coal deposits cover an immense area—America, England and China. Of these China has by far the largest. Including the island of Formosa, the extent of the Chinese coal field is 127,000 square miles. America comes next, with 113,000 square miles. The measurement of 12,000 square miles for England is, however, deceptive. The English coal seams do not cover a very large extent of ground, it is true, but they are of remarkable thickness. In comparison with these three great coal-producing countries, the continent of Europe is anything but rich in this indispensable fuel. Germany possesses only 9,000, Spain 8,000, France 2,000 and Belgium 1,200 square miles of coal area. The Chinese coal is untouched. No railroads penetrate the district in which it lies; no adequate means of transportation are near. It is a vast, undeveloped store house for future use, when the mines of the West are exhausted.

Walworth Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life.

PROJECT FOR AN IMMENSE PARK.

NEW YORK, July 5, 1873.

Frank H. Walworth Sentenced.

Frank H. Walworth, who shot his father and had been convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced this morning to imprisonment for life. Walworth was attended in Court by his mother, brother, sisters and a number of relatives and friends. His counsel, except Mr. Beach, were present, Mr. O'Conor sitting beside the young criminal. Walworth preserved the demeanor which characterized him throughout the trial, apparently wholly insensible of the position he occupies in the estimation of the great body of the people. He heard unmoved the sentence to the State prison for life, and at the close retired from the court-room accompanied by his mother and the Sheriff's officers. Mr. O'Conor is said to be endeavoring to induce the Sheriff to allow Walworth to remain in the Tombs in the hope that a pardon from the Governor may save him from the State prison.

Judge Davis, before passing the sentence, said the evidence in his opinion justified the verdict, and he was not sure but it would have justified a verdict of guilty in the first degree, although he could understand the motives which prompted the jury to render the verdict which they did. He then continued: "The duty I am to perform is rendered doubly painful by the fact that you belong to a family honored and distinguished both in the civil and military annals of your country. Your grand-father on the one hand was, as has been truly said by your counsel, for a long time Chief Equity Judge of this great State, and he left a record for purity and integrity and for all the private virtues that adorn and elevate man second to none who have attained so high a station, and your grand-father on the mother's side fell nobly fighting for his country in the field of battle, and left a record of which all his descendants may well be proud. It is with grief that I feel bound to express my sorrow that the memory of those great ancestors should not have restrained you from the commision of such a crime as that of which you are convicted. Your poor mother had indeed cause to regret her relations to the father you have slain. You also undoubtedly had great cause to feel not aggrieved merely, but ashamed and indignant at the long course of outrages toward her and his family, but bad as he was, you were not to be the avenger of those wrongs. He had done nothing to forfeit his life, even to the laws of his country, and least of all had he done anything to forfeit his life at the hands of his own and eldest son. When I look back upon that moment, when you constituted yourself his executioner, slew him in that room, with no one present but yourselves, I cannot but feel that that death must have been to him more horrible than a thousand deaths in any other form. Called by you to your presence, apparently for the purpose of a peaceful interview, to settle family difficulties, invited to a seat in your room, and apparently almost instantly confronted with a weapon of death in his own son's hands, what thoughts must have rushed on him at that moment when he found that the person whom he expected had come to him for the purposes of a peaceful arrangement, had come to kill him! What thoughts, what terrible thoughts, must have rushed upon him when he received the leaden messenger of death in his bosom from the hands of his eldest boy! I shudder when I think of it, and I think you ought to devote your whole life to a repentance, such as God only can accept, for so horrible a deed."

Walworth, on the way to the Tombs, after sentence, said: "I am glad I did not have to endure the long lecture I had anticipated Judge Davis would inflict upon me. I thoroughly understood my position, and did not desire any instruction in relation thereto. I simply wish time to arrange my affairs, and I shall then submit myself to my fate with all the equanimity I can command."

Upon being taken to his cell, he parted cheerfully with the deputy sheriff, saying that his was a case which he thoroughly understood, but did not blame the world for not understanding.

NEW YORK, July 6, 1873.

Project for an Immense Park.

The Herald publishes a report of the State Park Commission appointed by the last Legislature, who favor the conversion into a State Park of an immense track of land, almost entirely in the Adirondacks, much frequented by tourists, and covering about 834,000 acres, which, when finished, would be the largest park in the world but one, the United States Park on the Yellowstone river.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Turf.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Dexter Park races. First race, running, dash of 1¼ miles, for all ages; won by Lady Fairchild in 2:16.

Second race, trotting, for horses that have never beaten 2:30; won by Mila Caldwell; time 2:27, 2:27¾ and 2:31½.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—At Sacramento, this afternoon, California horses achieved a reputation for speed second to none. The fastest time ever made in a running race in the United States was beaten in the first heats, taken together, being the fastest time ever made in the world. The first heat was won by Thornhill in 1:43, beating Flaherty half a length, stamping both horses the fastest running horses in the United States. In the second heat Flaherty made a half mile in 51 seconds, leading Thornhill, coming home ahead again, repeating 1:43, the same time as the first heat. This was something wonderful, nothing like it being on record in the time table of the country. In the third heat Thornhill led to the half mile post, passing it in 51¼ seconds.

Death by Lightning.

FORT WAYNE, IND., July 6.—A young man by the name of Wm. Robinson, who went out hunting on Friday, did not return as expected, and his friends have been busy searching for him ever since. He was found this forenoon about three miles from town, lying about fifteen feet from a large tree which had been struck by lightning. His head was severed from his body, and the two were lying some distance apart. The theory of the coroner's jury is that Robinson took shelter under the tree with his gun upon his shoulder, thereby drawing the lightning upon himself.

Fatal Coal Oil Explosion.

NASHVILLE, July 5.—There was a fatal coal oil explosion Thursday evening about six o'clock, near this place. A young woman named Elizabeth McClay, living with Mr. Geo. Wheeler, two miles south of Nashville, was pouring oil out of a can into a slow fire in order to hurry up the supper, when the oil took fire and an explosion followed, which scattered the burning oil all over the body of the girl, burning her to a crisp from the neck down. A Tragedy in Wheeling.

WHEELING, July 5.—About 11 o'clock this morning a man named Martin A. G. Evans, a printer by trade, but at present in the employ of the Signal Service at Cincinnati, went to visit a Mrs. Dunlap in this city, whom he was very desirous of marrying. He was very jealous of a Mr. Flanagan, who boarded with Mrs. Dunlap. Upon entering the house he went directly to Flanagan's room, and finding him lying on the bed, drew a revolver. Flanagan jumped up and seized the weapon, when, in the scuffle, it went off, the ball injuring several fingers of Evans' hand and passing through Flanagan's hand. Mrs. Dunlap and her sister rushed into the room, and Evans, upon observing her, tried to carry the weapon toward her. The second shot passed through the skirt of Mrs. Dunlap's dress and lodged in the door. The third shot inflicted a scalp wound on Evans. The fourth shot lodged in his (Evans') brain, causing death in a few minutes.

Parties cognizant relieve Flanagan of any intention to turn the course of the weapon toward Evans, his aim being evidently to secure the weapon, or, failing in that, to prevent any injury being inflicted until the revolver was emptied.

The War with the Apaches.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Advices from Oregon, via Sandiego, state that Fataja's band of two hundred warriors, located fifty miles south of the Apacha-Passon-Cochize reservation, recently left for Chihuahua, with the intention of war. Cochize does not acknowledge the band as his, though he has permitted them to remain on the reservation.

Capt. Randall, of the Twenty-third Infantry, and command, with fifty Apache scouts, surrounded a ranchero and fired and captured twenty-five bucks, with squaws and children. Next day Delchais camp was surrounded, and he, with the remainder of a once formidable band, to the number of one hundred and thirty-one, surrendered.

A Bark Ashore.

HALIFAX, July 5.—The bark Concordia, from Quebec for Plymouth, England, went ashore at Cape Grilla, on June 18th, and Captain Harrison, First Mate Goudle and three of the crew were drowned while making an effort to carry a line ashore. James Hughson, Second Mate, succeeded in floating a line ashore, which was made fast by some fishermen, and himself and the remainder of the crew, eleven in number, were saved. ARKANSAS.

Speech by Gov. Baxter on Brooks' Attempt to Secure the Office of Governor.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 5.—Gov. Baxter yesterday delivered a speech at a 4th of July celebration at Lewisburg, Conway county. It was principally of a political nature. He stated that if any frauds were committed at the late election it was done by the men who are now endeavoring to put Mr. Brooks in office; that he had been duly elected by all the forms of law, and he would be recreant to himself and the people if he was to surrender the office. He said Mr. Brooks was contesting for the place he had been kicked out of by the Legislature, the only power under the laws that could try the matter, that the Supreme Court had also refused to interfere, and now should a Circuit Court attempt to do so, he should certainly pay no attention to it. While he did not recognize the right of Congress to interfere, he did not believe there was any disposition to do so. Nevertheless, if a new election was ordered by Congress he should certainly go before the people, and if Mr. Brooks was elected, he would quietly retire. It was known that Mr. Brooks could not again bring up his contest before the assembling of the next Legislature, and he proposed in the election of that body to see that every man in the State had the right to vote and his vote was properly counted. It is a matter of fact that the election under which the present Constitution was declared to be ratified never expressed the will of the people, nor has any Legislature elected from that time to the present. He proposed that the next one should represent the will of the whole people.

The Choicest Sale of the Season!
That Valuable and Delightful Property, situated in the heart of the City,
MOWRY HOMESTEAD LOTS
Butler Street, Between 50th and 51st Streets.
GREAT INDUCEMENTS OFFERED.
100 MAGNIFICENT LOTS
Are to be offered to the Public
AT AUCTION,
ON MONDAY, JULY 14th,
At 2 o'clock A. M., on the premises.

This is unquestionably the most desirable Plan of Lots now in the market, and has been laid out by an efficient surveyor with great care, and approved by the Survey Committee of the City of Pittsburgh, every lot being beautifully situated, and fronts on a fifty (50) foot street, and located in the midst of a large and increasing community, and adjacent to the most numerous manufacturing establishments in the City, such as SALT WORKS, LOCOMOTIVE WORKS, FURNACES, PLANING MILLS, BRIDGE WORKS, &c. It is just the place where mechanics and workingmen should buy a home, being close to CHURCHES and SCHOOLS. There is plenty of good soft water on the premises, and gas can be had if wanted for each and every lot. Purchasers of lots should make a note of this, that it is the ONLY piece of property that has ever been or ever will be offered for sale on this plan that has water and gas at the door. Then why should you go out of town from five to ten miles to buy a lot that will cost you as much, if not more, and can never have gas and all the conveniences of the city? Another reason why you should attend this sale and buy a lot is this—The cost of car fare to and from the city, and it is a very large ITEM for workingmen. Just look at the difference in buying a lot in the city and out of it, what a person will save in one year, as viz.:

COST OF RAILWAY TRAVEL.

Let the reader compare the yearly expense of making one trip each way daily, (Sunday's excepted,) to different points near the city, before deciding where to locate. The cost of fare one year on the Inclined Plane Railway, for one person, is $18, and for youths and school children, $12, and $32.40 additional for fare on cars.

ON THE PAN HANDLE ROUTE.—The fare for one year is, to Temperanceville, Nimick, Sheridan and Ingram, each $39; to Broadhead, $45.60; to Cemetery, $48; to Mansfield and North Mansfield, $57; to Fort Pitt, $64.80; to Walker's Mill, $75; to Hays', $78; to Greggs, $84; to Oakdale, $85.80; to Noblestown, $87; to Arlington, $90, and to McDonald's station, $96.

ON THE CONNELLSVILLE ROUTE.—Cost for one year is, to Soho, Laughlin's and Frankstown, each $34.20; to Hazlewood, $36; to Grove and Glenwood, $39; to Brown's, $46.20; to Salt Works, N. Homestead, Homestead and City Farm, each $51.60; to Mills and Braddocks, $58.20; to Fort Perry, $70.80; to Saltsburg, $75.60; to Riverside and McKeesport, each $85.20.

ON PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—The fare for one year is, to Millvale, Shady Side, East Liberty and Torrens, each $39; to Homewood and Brereton, $45.60; to Wilkinsburg, $48; to Edgewood, $65.20; to Swissvale, $57; to Hawkins, $58.20; to Copeland, $61.80; to Braddocks, $64.80; to McKinneys and Brintons, $72; to Turtle Creek, $78; and to Walls, $84.

ON THE WEST PENN RAILROAD.—Fare for one year is, to Chestnut street and Herr's, each $31.40; to Bennett's, Pine Creek, Etna and Sharpsburg, each $39; to Ross, $57; to Claremont, $58.20; to Fairview, $56; to Harmersville, $78; and to Lincoln, $82.26.

ON THE FORT WAYNE ROAD.—Fare for one year is, to Superior, Woods' Run, Verner, Jack's Run, Neville, Bellevue and Birmingham, each $39; to Laurel, $42; to Fleming, $45.50; to Dixmont, $51.60; to Glendale, $57; to Agnew, $63; to Haysville, $64.80; to Sewickley, $72; to Economy, $90; and to Rochester or Beaver, $108.

ON THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY RAILROAD.—The fare for one year is, to McCandless, Standard, Sharpsburg and Morning Side, each $39; to Brilliant, $48; to Waring, $51.60; to Ireland, $57; to Sandy Creek, $58.20; and to Armstrong and Verner, $66.

ON THE CHARLESTON AND VIRGINIA RAILROAD.—A single fare to Homestead is twenty-five cents, and a 52-trip ticket costs $4, making the yearly expense for one person $48, Sundays excepted.

On the Penn street cars or Pennsylvania Railroad, one trip each way daily to Lawrenceville, $32.40

The foregoing estimates are based on the use of monthly tickets. It will be worth while for persons contemplating removing out of the city for a home, to carefully examine the rates of fare above given.

These lots only require to be examined to merit appreciation. All the advantages of the country will be obtained here in connection with city conveniences, combined with the privilege of being within a FEW MINUTES' RIDE of the great business centre of the city, and can be reached from the centre of the city by railroad or street cars in a FEW MINUTES.

A celebrated BRASS BAND will be in attendance.

MONDAY, JULY 7, 1873.

The laying of the new Atlantic cable was successfully completed on the morning of the 4th of July.

THE military commission for the trial of the Modocs will convene this week, and it is anticipated that the cases will be disposed of within three or four days.

FRANK H. WALWORTH, the murderer of his father in New York, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life, at hard labor, having been convicted last week of murder in the second degree.

THE FOURTH passed off very quietly in the city and neighborhood. The weather was quite pleasant during the greater part of the day. A shower in the afternoon cooled the atmosphere somewhat, but the rain was not sufficient to mar the enjoyment of pleasure-seekers.

AN official statement of the debt of the State and Municipalities of Missouri has been published. The debt upon which the State pays interest is $18,748,000. The debts of eighty counties amount to $22,000,000, while those of thirty-six other counties have not yet been reported. The taxable valuation of the property in the State is put at $582,000,000, and the population 1,721,293.

THE ceremony of giving possession to the Commissioners of the grounds for the Centennial Exposition was performed on Friday at Philadelphia, and the general preliminary regulations were announced. Every nation is invited to be present, and the dates at which entries can be made and goods received are published. The Commissioners are resolved to do all in their power to make the Exposition, in the words of the President on the occasion, "a grand success."

THE New York Herald notices the fact that there are now fifteen narrow gauge railways in operation in the United States, having 700 miles of track, and there are no less than 120 organizations and 1,250 miles under process of construction. These roads have been planned and constructed within the last two years. The cost through a level country is about $10,000 a mile, including a fair equipment of rolling stock, while the 4 foot 8½ inch gauge costs from $35,000 to $45,000 per mile. In the West, where the traffic is not large, the narrow gauge road pays better on the amount of money invested than does the wider gauge.

AS IS entirely proper, in view of the temperature, the political fight in Massachusetts is waxing warm. Butler is more an object of interest than he was two years ago. Those who were disposed to whistle him down the wind find that he has positive strength, and that he is entirely likely to make the nomination. We do not commend the man, or favor his aspirations. But he is possessed of rare executive ability, and should he be elected Governor, Massachusetts may look for a vigorous administration of the laws. Whether his ability in this respect will counterbalance some other qualities, or commend him for the position of United States Senator, are other and very different questions.

THE severity of the storms of the last few days, in portions of Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, has but seldom been witnessed in those States. Hurricanes and tornadoes, with floods and rain, have followed each other in rapid succession, and the country has suffered greatly. On the route of the storms there was wide-spread disaster; houses were blown down, bridges washed away, grain fields leveled, trees uprooted, and telegraph poles prostrated. At Green Lake, Wisconsin, on Friday, pleasure-seekers were on the water, when the storm struck and capsized their boats, drowning some twenty persons. The details of damage by the storms will be found in another part of this paper.

THE St. Louis Democrat is of the opinion that the spirit of American journalism is progressive, and in the elucidation of this theory it remarks that the Congressman of to-day is not half so great a man in the eyes of his constituents as his predecessor of twenty years ago. This statement it explains on the ground that it is not because the Congressman of to-day knows less than his predecessor did, but because his constituents know so much more, and this knowledge they have gained through the newspapers. Commenting on this theme, the New York Herald adds the remark that whilst Congressmen, through their jobs and corrupt practices, are becoming less and less objects of public esteem, the respectable newspaper press continually rises higher in the scale of practical influence and popular regard.

THE New York Times says Gen. Butler made a characteristic speech on the Fourth, at a temperance meeting, held at Harmony Grove, Framington. He devoted himself in part to national and in part to local topics. He made a very intemperate use of the temperance question, and delivered a sharp philippic against the present State administration of Massachusetts, the head of which, he suggested, had been guilty of "perjury," to say nothing of favoring the rich at the expense of the poor. He left his hearers to infer that when he is Governor things will be managed differently, as no doubt they will be. But his hearers were not inclined to accept general statements. They badgered him with a written pledge, and with cruelly pertinent questions, which the great would-be Governor was obliged to parry as long as he could, and then to run away from, followed by shouts of derision. In national affairs, the counsel of Oakes Ames undertook a general denunciation of railway monopolists, who seemed to him to fulfill the "definition of an aristocracy in its worst sense."

WE ARE gratified to announce that the teachers of the city are seriously considering what measures may be adopted to prevent, in the future, the bad effects which have resulted from the examinations for admission to the High School, this year. The evils we referred to seem to be but part of what really exist. In some cases, we are informed, the examinations were made from text-books which have not been in use for several years. In others, the standard was entirely too high, being equal to that required of teachers, when examined for certificates. The leading idea involved in the establishment of a High School seems to have been overlooked. We do not desire the standard to be too low, but it should be reasonable. The High School is not a College, nor is it intended to be, however much the worthy Principal may imagine in that direction. It is a High School, at which those who have attained a certain proficiency in the Ward Schools are entitled to admission. So far as we can learn the result of the talk on the subject, it is believed that the standard required should be fixed at the beginning of the year; the examinations should be uniform; the questions or examinations should be agreed upon between the teachers; and particularly they should be made from the text books used by the children. It is also urged that exceptional circumstances should be taken into account. One child was rejected by one mark, caused by the misplacing of one letter. We hope that now the subject is started, the reforms needed will be accomplished. This is what we are seeking, and this only.

PUBLIC INTEREST in the coming centennial celebration at Philadelphia increases rather than wanes. It is said that about $3,000,000 have been secured thus far, and the work of direct preparation will be commenced, ere long. At first thought it seems unnecessary to agitate the subject, so long in advance,—but experience in International fairs,—and this will be practically one,—shows that unless the programme is well advanced, at least two years before the time for the exposition, there will be hurry and confusion in the end. In the first place some idea must be formed as to the extent of the preparations to be made, and in order to this correspondence must be had, an interest created, and responses obtained from distant points. Then buildings are to be designed and erected, and the thousand preparations, incidental to such an exposition, made. These include the question of entertainment, and the capacity of the hotels of a city. All this requires time and forethought. The Vienna fair will prove a partial failure, because of the lack of foresight and preparation. Even the building was not completed, and its size was not sufficiently great. The departments were in confusion, and delay and incompleteness were the results. The high charges for entertainment, added to the other defects, created a reaction, and it is now quite uncertain whether the numbers that will be attracted will at all compensate the Viennese for their trouble and outlay. All this should furnish a warning to the Commissioners having the Centennial Exposition in charge, and we are glad that they are displaying energy and forethought, which promise the full success of the enterprise. They have the examples of the several great expositions already held, before them, and it will not be for the lack of opportunity, if failure shall mark any phase of the enterprise. From the progress already made, we judge it will not.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

There is no country on the globe in which the people are more interested in obtaining correct information on the laws which regulate supply and demand, whether within the country, or between this and foreign nations, than in the United States. Very many are engaged in business for themselves, and their productions are intended to supply the general market. There are perpetual fluctuations occurring in prices, and much embarrassment ensues, particularly among those who do not comprehend the causes of these fluctuations, or have not capital enough to take advantage of them. More than this, there are journals which from interested motives, or conviction as the case may be, are perpetually agitating questions which alone can find their solution in a comprehensive understanding of the principles of political economy. Such papers as favor free trade, argue that the fixing of a tariff on one article is, practically, a discrimination against some other article. We have a duty on iron that may be imported—and the farmers are appealed to by free trade journals, and urged to believe that the tariff on iron is a discrimination against agricultural produce. On the other hand, it is claimed that the tariff protects our iron manufactures, and that as a consequence, large populations are aggregated, and that these absorb the farmers' produce, thus giving him a home market at good prices. All these discussions rarely touch the elemental principles of political economy, but rather the application of these principles.

We have two or three works on political economy written in this country, but two of them take the free trade view, while that written by Horace Greeley is rather a newspaper discussion of the subject, from a tariff stand-point, than an elemental work. The Mercantile Journal, of New York, offers a prize of $2,000 for a work, sufficiently clear and simple in statement to be used as a text book in the common schools. The offer should be accepted, as certainly such a work can be prepared. The necessities of the Government, even if no other consideration should be thought of, will compel us to maintain a revenue tariff for at least twenty years to come. The unfortunate experience of the country with ad valorem, or merely revenue tariffs, will probably lead to the maintenance of specific duties, so long as a tariff shall be deemed necessary. But unless such of our manufactures as can be given strength or time to develop, by means of a tariff, are strong enough to compete with European manufacturers, by the time our national debt is paid it is probable that the policy will be followed of protecting them until they are strong. But beyond this point it is, of course, not policy to go. Yet this is a policy that is not well understood, because the people are not sufficiently instructed in the principles involved. The arguments now used, pro and con, are those of expediency only. The force of the argument turns entirely on the immediate result—the question apparently being, "Does production cheapen produce, or better the condition of the people now?" What it may be expected to do in the future is almost entirely lost sight of.

We have repeatedly urged that the duty of educators is to adapt instruction to the probable needs of students, when they shall have arrived at manhood and womanhood. We claim that the incidental benefits of education,—the disciplining of the mind, and development of the observing and reasoning powers,—can as well be done by a course of study which shall, at the same time, embrace practical information, or the elements of sciences that must be used more or less in practical life, as by the use of studies of no practical value. At this day we have better translations of the Greek and Latin classics than any youth can possibly make. The structure of language can be taught in connection with English grammar. Hence we urge that some practical study, which shall discipline the mind, and yet furnish elements of knowledge of great practical advantage in after years, is of more value to those who attend our schools than are the classics. We do not say that political economy should take the place of Greek and Latin, but we do urge that mathematics and grammar, with a careful reading of those classics as are translated might, and the time thus saved could be used to advantage in the study of Political Economy.

But before the study is taken up, the text book must be produced. The fault of all that we know of is, that they have a bias, either toward protection or free trade. The future policy of the country will probably involve these ideas—protection till the debt is paid and manufactures established, and free trade afterwards. Hence such a text book should first clearly state the laws and principles involved, and then the conditions under which they are usually made applicable to either policy under mention. We are persuaded that such a work can be so prepared as to be interesting as a study, and that it will achieve popularity at the outset. We commend the idea, and hope it may yet be wrought out.

An Indian Fight.

Official information from the Sioux country proves beyond a doubt that the recent reported attacks upon Fort Abraham Lincoln by Sioux, from Grand River, were not really attacks upon the fort. A number of Ree scouts are employed by the commanding officer, and these people are enemies of the Sioux. Some time ago a band of these Ree scouts captured and scalped a Sioux Indian and sent the scalp with a hostile message to the Sioux at Grand River, who immediately organized a small war party to avenge the insult and the death of their comrade. These went to the vicinity of the fort and tried to induce the Rees to come out, but without success, and recently a large body, numbering about fifty, while endeavoring to draw out the scouts, were attacked by the troops. The fighting was done principally at long range with a howitzer, and, except the capture of a few horses by the Indians, no damage was done. The Indians insist upon it that they do not want to attack or fight the soldiers of the Great Father, and think it is not fair that soldiers should fight them when they go to fight the Rees.

THE attention of scientific men having been called to the increasing frequency of sunstrokes during the last few years, some of them are of the opinion that the growing prevalence of the use of iced drinks may be the cause. POLITICAL NOTES.

THE farmers' granges in Iowa will hold a State convention in Des Moines on Wednesday, Aug. 13.

A SOUTHERN paper divides the opponents and friends of Butler in Massachusetts into radicals and sporadicals.

THE lawyers of Minnesota have unanimously signed a document recommending Judge Miller, of Iowa, for the Chief Justiceship of the United States Supreme Court.

IT is now reported that Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin is to be appointed successor of the late Chief Justice Chase as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

THERE is something in dreams after all. A Western man dreamed that his brother's head was cut off without losing a drop of blood, and the next day he learned that his brother had been removed from a postmastership.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE paper says that immediately after the passage of the salary bill, Senator Cragin declined to accept the back pay. Probably he will now turn it over formally into the Treasury in view of the recent decision.

IN answer to an inquiry when the Congressional back pay grab ceased to be available in the Treasury, the Comptroller answers that the unexpended appropriations referred to will remain subject to call until June 30, 1875—nearly two years yet.

THE Republicans of Wisconsin will hold their State Convention at Madison, on Wednesday, August 27. Gov. Washburn will be renominated without opposition. The chief contest will be for the Lieutenant-Governorship, for which there are half a dozen or more candidates.

A GEORGIA man being asked if he thought a certain politician in the State would steal, replied: "Steal! why, by Jove, if he was paralyzed and hamstrung, I wouldn't trust him by himself in the middle of the Desert of Sahara, with the biggest anchor of the Great Eastern. Steal! I should think he would.

AN Iowa journal says, respecting the Patrons of Husbandry: "It is plain to see that in several townships petty demagogues, disappointed office-seekers, and axe-grinders have crept into the clubs and granges, and by the use of means with which they are familiar, they are endeavoring to run the popular movement for selfish and personal ends."

"BACK-PAY" cost $1,163,000 for work paid for and done. "Forward-pay" costs $2,058,750 before any work is done. "Back-pay" and "forward-pay" cost, between March and December of this year, with no Congress in session, $3,221,750. Congressmen who expect this storm to blow over will be wanting to know, next year, if anybody heard anything drop.—Chicago Tribune.

HON. GEORGE E. DENEALE, of Rockingham county, Virginia, has written a letter expressing a willingness to accept the Republican nomination for Governor, if tendered him, on the broad platform of seeking to vitalize the new issues pressing for consideration, and to build up party success on the basis of substantial progress and welfare to the State and all its people. The Richmond State Journal says that Mr. Deneale would sweep the valley clean, and everywhere would be as strong a candidate as any man the Republican party could put in the field.

IT is positively stated by those who are in close communion with Pomeroy that he will be a candidate for the place made vacant by Caldwell. Political undercurrents indicate such a course. Senator Yorke says that Pomeroy can go into the canvass with more positive strength this fall than he did last, for the reason that a great number of prominent and able politicians who were identified with him at the time of his memorable and tragic defeat would now labor for him with an unwonted zeal, as an only means of restoring them to their lost estate.—St. Louis Globe.

IF Monroe's second term was properly called the era of good feeling, the present year might be denominated the era of explanations. The increase of salary act has drawn forth more excuses than any measure within the memory of any person now living. It would be harsh to adopt to its full extent Dr. Franklin's assertion, that "He that is good at making excuses is good for nothing else." but all feel, and Congressmen not the least, that it would have been better to have so legislated that nothing in the shape of an apology would have been required.—Cincinnati Gazette.

PERSONAL.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON is not to lecture the coming winter.

LONGSTREET will defend himself from the charge of losing the battle of Gettysburg.

SEVERAL American ladies were presented to the Queen at the last Buckingham Palace levee.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON, Louis Agassiz and Oliver Wendell Holmes dined together at Boston the other day.

STOKES is bitterly disappointed in not being able to get bail, so that he could sail for Europe on a genteel tour.

W. S. ROBINSON, late "Warrington," of the Springfield Republican, succeeds Mr. Ballou as editor-in-chief of the Boston Globe.

MRS. LYSTER, of Indiana, was lately buried in her linen wedding garments, which she spun, wove and wore seventy-three years ago.

DIO LEWIS still insists that a man can fare sumptuously on fifty-four cents per week. Fifty-four dollars a week is about what Dio lives on.

THE New Northwest, published by a woman, Mrs. Dunniway, in Portland, Oregon, comes to the defense of Senator Mitchell-Hippell, and holds him blameless.

GOVERNOR WASHBURN, of Wisconsin, gave a brilliant reception to Mr. and Mrs. Ole Bull, as a farewell party, prior to their departure for Norway, from Madison, Wis.

MRS. SENATOR SPRAGUE invites clergymen, school teachers, and people generally, to fill the eighty rooms of her home at Newport. The shrewd lady has an eye to her husband's re-election.

"MOST NORTHERN" is suggested as a name for the child born to the wife of Hans Christian, the Esquimaux, one of the Polaris survivors, on the floating ice-field, one hundred miles further north than any habitation of man is know to exist.

Diseased Liver—Symptoms.

The symptoms are plain, and many of them also attend diseased lungs. When the liver is diseased it should be cured at once, and not allowed to run on until the lungs have become diseased, as it is harder to cure two diseases than one. Pain in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, which is made greater by pressure; sometimes there is pain also in the left side; sometimes pain is felt under the right or left shoulder blade, and it often extends to the top of the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. There is loss of appetite and sickness of the stomach; the bowels are costive at times, and again too loose; the head is sore and aches, with a dull sensation in the back part. There is a weakness of the memory and a proneness to let things remain undone rather than make the least exertion; there is weariness and debility, and a soreness in the limbs as if they had been pounded. Sleep brings no refreshment, and the languor and debility fill the person with forebodings of evil, and render life a burthen. The skin is cold and hot alternately; there is a prickly sensation all over it; he feels like exercise, but cannot summon fortitude to take it. Dry cough, low spirits are common attendants. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure and the Doctor's treatment is an unfailing cure. Read Dr. Keyser's Treatise, to be had free at his Medicine Office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, July 5, 1873.

The money market is decidedly dull, and but very little business was done during the day. There is no change to report in the rates of discount. There was no difficulty in obtaining all the money needed on first-class paper at 9 ₩ cent. ₩ annum. There were instances where banks loaned at 8 ₩ cent., and others at 10, but as a general thing the ruling rate was as first quoted. Real estate transactions were but few, and local securities dull.

In Philadelphia the money market is about as dull as is usual after the "fourth." Banking institutions are transacting business, but there is very little call for funds, and, as the speculative market is closed until Monday, there is very little demand for money. Rates are nominal.

Financial affairs were generally without change in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Boston and Baltimore.

NEW YORK, July 5, 1873.

The bank statement shows considerable gain in reserve, but the gain is entirely in specie, legal tenders showing a decrease of $951,000. The percentage of reserve to the total liabilities is 31 77-100 per cent. for national banks, 29 41-100 per cent. for State banks, and 31 47-100 per cent. for the banks as a whole. The Assistant Treasurer paid out to-day $580,000 on account of interest and in redemption of 5-20 bonds.

The following is the bank statement:

Loans, increase	$5,399,200
Specie, increase	5,880,900
Legal tenders, decrease	951,000
Deposits, increase	8,328,600
Circulation, decrease	35,200

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY July, 5, 1873.

There is no improvement to note in general business, nor is it likely there will be for some time to come: we need not look for much from the country during the next thirty days, as farmers will all be busily engaged harvesting. As is always the case at this particular time, the demand for all of the leading staples is restricted almost wholly to supplying immediate wants, while in regard to values there is no quotable change, but the tendency, as a general thing, is still downward—shrinkage seems to be the order of the day, and while, as a matter of course, this depreciation has a very bad effect on trade for the time being, there is not much doubt but what it is all for the best, at least it is hoped so.

APPLES—The season for old is almost over; may be quoted at $6@8 ₩ brl, as to quality. Several lots of new crop have made their appearance within the past few days, but they were mostly common in point of quality.

BEANS—Dull: $2.50@3 ₩ bushel.

BUTTER—There is some inquiry, but no improvement in prices; 8@12 for common to fair, and 15@17 for prime to choice.

CHEESE—Is weaker, but we continue former quotations, 11c for prime Ohio Factory to the trade, and 12@12½ in a jobbing way.

COUNTRY MEAT—Continues dull but nominally unchanged; Shoulders, 5@5½; Clear Sides, 7@7½; Hams, 8@9. Country Lard, 7@8, according to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Prime halves Peaches, 7½@8c; mixed, 5@6c; Apples, 3@4c.

EGGS—Notwithstanding the supply is by no means large, it is equal to the demand, prices remain without quotable change, 17@16c, the outside figure for fresh, guaranteed as such.

FLOUR—Market continues quiet and weak, but prices remain unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $7@7.50, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas, and $8@8.50 for red winter wheat—it is probable that a good buyer could buy under our quotations, as dealers generally are anxious to sell. Rye Flour, $5.25@5.50.

GRAIN—The market is generally reported quiet, although some dealers are very hopeful that there will soon be a change for the better; we hope that their expectations may be fully realized, as the grain business, has been very unsatisfactory for some time past; in consequence of a steady depreciation, dealers have nearly all been losing money. The receipts of Wheat continue light, but there is not much inquiry for it, and prices remain without quotable change; $1.45@1.55 for common to prime red winter. Oats in good supply and cannot be fairly quoted above 43 for mixed and 45 for white—the receipts during the past few days were unusually large. Shelled Corn is quiet and nominal at 53@54 on track, and 55@56 free in elevator. Ear Corn, 56@57. Rye is still quotable at 75@80.

GROCERIES—Trade continues quiet, and with the exception that Coffee is reported firmer east, the market does not present a single new feature worthy of special notice.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 25; Good to Prime, 22½@23½c, fair 21@21½c. Old Government Java, 28c; other Javas, 26@27c. Roasted Rio, 1 lb packages, 28c; loose, 27½c. Roasted Java, 33½.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12½c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 11½; Standard A, 10¾; B, 10⅝; Ex. C, 10½c; C, Yellow, 10¼; Circle C, 10¼; Lower grades, 9@10.

HAY—There is rather more doing in Baled and the market is firmer although prices are not quotably higher, ranging from $18 to $25 per ton, according to quality.

POTATOES—The arrivals of new crop continue liberal, and prices have still further declined; we now quote at $5@6 per bbl.

POULTRY—Young or Spring chickens are quotable at 50 to 60 cents, and old ones at 70 to 80 per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ₩ lb, 15c. Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 10c: Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 19½c. Beef tongues, $7.50 ₩ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 9c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 10½c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11c. Mess Pork, $17.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in tres. 9½c. Do, half bbls, 10½c. Do. bkts, 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12½c. Do in 5 lb. 12½c. Do. in 3 lb. pails 13½c: do. Do. in 6 lb. pails, 13.

RAGS—Quoted at 3½@3¾c.

SEEDS—Flax Seed continues scarce and sells readily at $2.10@2.12½ per bushel.

WHISKY—Highwines quotable at 93@94c per gallon.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, July 5, 1873.

CATTLE.

The market has been, taking everything into consideration, moderately active this week, and about all that was expected; and while it was anything but satisfactory to the selling interest, buyers did not express themselves as satisfied by any means with the situation. The offerings, as a rule, were common in point of quality, the greater proportion consisting of what are termed by stock men as half fatted grassers, unfit for beeves, and there are but very few buyers for stockers. The result was that prime fatted steers held their own, brought last week's prices, while "grassers" declined from ¼ to ⅜ of a cent per pound. As we have already intimated, buyers generally want good matured beef cattle, hence the green slippery stock, to which reference has been made, is away down below par, and is likely to continue so for some time to come. We want to impress this upon the minds of our country readers, as it is important for them to realize the situation here, especially if they have stock of this kind which they contemplate shipping to this market. If they are satisfied to accept very low prices, all right, but unless they are they had better keep it at home until it becomes more matured. It may be argued that perhaps prices may go still lower, and it is almost certain that there will be a further decline unless there is a falling off in the receipts, but then won't the increase in weight more than make this up? Dealers object to these grass cattle, in consequence of the heavy shrinkage, as they shrink while on the cars this hot weather like the snow exposed to the influence of a warm sun; butchers also, in addition to urging the same objection, allege that the meat looks badly after it is dressed, hence good, well-matured stock is much cheaper, even at two cents per pound more, and this accounts for what we have already stated, that while prime, well-matured stock sold at full last week's prices, grassers ruled from 25 to 35c ₩ cwt lower.

Quotations may be given as follows: Extra 1,300@1,400 steers, 6; fancy, 6¾@6¾; prime 1,100@1,200, 5¾@5¾; good 900@1,000, 5½@5¾. The bulk of the sales were within the range of 4½@5½. Grass cattle may be quoted at 4½@5½, according to quality and condition. It is stated, though we cannot vouch for its correctness, that cattle are lower now than they have been for several years, and as the supply all over the country, more particularly in the west, seems to be unusually large, the probability is that the bottom has not yet been reached, although it is scarcely probable that prices will go much lower.

SHEEP.

The "run" of sheep this week was a full average one, and while the market was perhaps a little more active, prices, if anything, ruled a shade lower; the very best cannot be quoted above 4.90@5c—so far as we could learn, there was but a single sale at the outside figure—and it is certain that trade for the selling interest continues exceedingly unsatisfactory. There has been a steady shrinking in prices for several weeks now in succession; western men would sell out at loss, return home, determined to make it up the following week, but, instead of the improvement they had hoped for, it was worse; hence, they have been, as a general thing, losing money right along, and some of them a good deal of it—they have had a declining market to contend with all the time, and, as might be expected, they are discouraged, having spent all their labor in vain. It is expected that the arrivals will soon commence to fall off, as harvesting is near at hand; hence, hopes are entertained that the lowest notch has been touched but until there has been a material falling off in the receipts no advance in prices can reasonably be expected. Quotations may be given as follows: Extra 100 lbs, 4.90@5; 95, 4¾@4¾; 90, 4½; 85, 4.30@4.35; 80, 4@4¼; 70@75, 3¾@3¾.

Sadler, Havens & Co. report as follows: 1 car common 65 lbs at 3¼; 2 do. good, 81, 4.30; 1 do. 81, 5¼; 1 do. 83, 4.30; 1 do. 75, 3¾; 1 do, 82, 4¼; 1 do. scalawags, $1,30 ₩ head; 1 car mixed lambs at 5½@6¼.

Hedges, Huff & Co. report 1 car 90, lb, 4.30; 1 do. 80, 4; 1 do. rough, 93, 4; 1 do. good, 84, 4.35; 1 do. 92, 4¼; 1 do. 84, rough, 4; 1 do. 83, 4; 1 do. good Washington Co., 80 lbs at 4.20; 1 do. 87 lbs at 4½; 1 do. 90 lbs, at 4½.

Lambs were in moderate supply, and mostly common in point of quality; may be quoted at 5@6¾c ₩ lb. It is but proper to state that the pens were pretty well cleared to-day, of both sheep and lambs, which on Saturday is always regarded as a good omen for the following week, but dealers were not very sanguine, they have been so badly taken in by the course of the market during the past thirty days that they are not disposed to draw much on the future.

HOGS.

The hog market is reported as having been very quiet all week, and the best evidence of this consists in the fact that there has been but little change in prices. The most noticeable feature is that good light hogs are bringing as much as heavy ones, because there is more inquiry for the former than the latter, which, by the way, is something unusual. Quotations may be given at $4.50 to 4.75 for Yorkers, and $4.80@4.90 for Philadelphia. There was a sale of nice light hogs this forenoon, to go to Baltimore, at $4.95, which is regarded as being about 5c ₩ cwt above the market.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, July 5, 1873.

The crude has been panicky for some days past, and is lower at present than ever before since it became an article of trade, selling at Parker at $1,80@1,82½ per barrel, equal to 5 cents per gallon delivered here. There are various causes assigned for the decline, but an excessive production is the chief one: it overtops all the rest. The "Producers' Report" gave a daily production of something over 25,000 brls for May. It is fair to infer from the recent sharp decline that the yield is increasing, and if so, June will show an increase over May. Some parties who tanked oil in the spring on speculation, at prices ranging from $2.25 to 2.50, have been selling recently, the idea being to fill up their tanks with cheaper oil. Almost any standard commodity is considered a good investment, when it can be procured below or at cost, which is the case in regard to crude petroleum at the present time; but operators generally have been so badly deceived by the course of the market during the past that they don't feel like operating much on the future. There may be money in it at present rates, but the experience of speculators in oil generally has not been very pleasant of late years, and this, together with a close money market, accounts for there being so little of it.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose rapidly all day yesterday, and was still rising last evening, with 8 feet 9 inches in the channel last evening. As might be expected, coal men were busily engaged all day in getting the boats in readiness, the rise being very sudden and unexpected, and it is expected that a large fleet will depart within the next 24 hours, mostly for Cincinnati and Louisville. The weather yesterday was cool and pleasant—the thermometer indicated 75 in the shade in the after part of the day.

The Messenger arrived from Captina Island, where she had been laid up waiting for water. The Juniata was the only departure excepting towboats.

The Juniata departed for Cincinnati on Saturday evening with a fair trip and engagements below.

A number of towboats have arrived within the past forty-eight hours, including the Simpson, Horner, Oakland, Ironsides, Smoky City and Grand Lake No. 2. The Ironsides will return to Pomeroy to bring up two barges of ore.

The Charlie McDonald was sold by United States Marshall Hall, on Saturday, to Thomas W. Briggs for $24,000.

The Mary Davage enroute, for this port with a tow of ore, left Cincinnati on Saturday.

The Mollie Ebert and Wild Duck are among the first boats due.

A lively opposition is going on between the New Orleans and Red River packets in up freights. On the 24th the Marie Louise was receiving at half card rates, and taking salt at 50c. The Leslie Taylor, the same day, was asking $1.90 for salt, and other freight at half card rates, except corn, which is 25c. The E H Durfee got $2 a sack for salt. A Shreveport telegram of the 28th, to New Orleans, says: "Nothing here for boats to turn back with. No cattle in sight."

The Dubuque Herald says: "Agent Lowry gains friends every day in his efforts to break a strong monopoly, and has received encouragement sufficient to induce him to return for another cargo." No effort is being made to break a "monopoly" that we can see. It looks as if Captain Lowry is engaged in the very laudable effort to make a living with his steamer. But how long does anybody suppose the shippers of Dubuque and Galena will keep up the practice of paying a higher freight rate to the Babbage than to the K. N. Line? Not long, it may be believed, although by so doing they would soon save enough to buy and keep running such a boat as the Babbage and her barges. If it deserves the name of a fight, Captain Davidson can sympathize with Lowry, for, when his wealth was easily calculated, he went through a similar experience, fighting with his one small steamer against very strong and determined corporations—just as determined as it may be supposed the K. N. Line Company is now. Captain Davidson overcame all opposition, to the delight of some and dismay of others; but we see very little that is parallel in the case of the Babbage now and the Frank Steel then, and very little probability that Captain Lowry's Babbage has gone into the Upper Mississippi to remain. The boat has no banner inscribed with the old steamboat legend, "We have come to stay."—St. Louis Democrat.

The Memphis Avalanche of Tuesday says: "Since the breaking out of the prevailing sickness at several points along the river above and below, as well as in the city, it is very remarkable that passing steamers have luckily escaped a visitation from the dreaded disease. Though many vessels have daily passed both up and down the river crowded with people, yet the first case of cholera is yet to be reported among them. Singularly enough, the boats have been entirely exempt from sickness."

—Gen. E. D. Smith, Supervising Inspector General of Steamboats, starts Friday for a tour to the Northern, Eastern and Western States, to visit all the local Boards of Inspectors, and institute a series of experiments in boilers, boiler iron, &c. It is his intention to enforce the requirements of the law, and have only such persons licensed as are skilled in the management of steam vessels and of temperate habits. He will arrive at Pittsburgh about the 15th instant, where he will examine into the steamboat service on the Western rivers, and conduct experiments in various grades of boiler iron.

—A Louisville special under date of 3rd says: Two deaths from cholera occurred on the James D. Parker on her present trip. Wm. Biset, second steward, died Monday night, and was buried on the Missouri bank between Cairo and Columbus. Wm. Arthur Secon, the engineer, died last night, and the body sent to Cincinnati by the Adams Express Company this morning. Both men lived in Cincinnati or vicinity. There were other cases on the boat, but none fatal.

—Captain Strong, of the Tarescon, relates as a singular fact that, in forty years of steamboating, he had never heard of but one single instance in which a steamboat had been struck by lightning.

—The Dubuque Herald of Thursday says: Commodore Davidson offered to take freight as low as five cents, while the Babbage was unloading there.

—Captain Dugan had intended to raise the coal boat found by Capt. Robinson above Vevay, but as the river is rising he will not attempt it at present.

—The steamer Post Boy in 1866 brought five hundred and ten bales of hemp, which is said to be the largest cargo of that stuff out of the Missouri since the war.

—It was rumored in Mound City last week that a flatboat loaded at Caledonia for New Orleans, with staves, sunk down the river, and that five of the crew were drowned.

Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

THE CAPITAL.

Correspondence Between the President of Hayti and Charles Sumner.

DEFICIT IN THE INDIAN FUND.

WASHINGTON, July 6, 1873.

Deficit in the Indian Fund.

The Second Auditor of the Treasury has just completed the settlement of the account of Jacob Thompson, Secretary of the Interior under Buchanan's administration, and acting at that time as trustee of the Indian fund. It is shown that there is a deficit of $821,000. The statement is made that it has not been possible to take up these accounts until recently, owing to the fact that all previous accounts were required to be settled before reaching Mr. Thompson's case. The stocks of the United States and of certain States held in trust by the Secretary of the Interior amount to about $5,000,000. The annual interest, nearly $281,000, is transferred or applied to the benefit of the Indian tribes owning the securities.

Correspondence Between the President of Hayti and Senator Sumner.

The following letter of Nisame Saget, President of the Republic of Hayti, to Hon. Charles Sumner, has been received:

REPUBLIC OF HAYTI, PORT AU PRINCE, Sept. 24, 1872, the 69th Year of Independence.

Honorable Senator—I seize eagerly the good opportunity offered me by the departure of our Minister, Citizen S. Preston, to pray you to receive the testimony of my high consideration, which does not cease to grow by reason of the eminent services which you render daily to the noble cause of our oppressed people. I should consider myself as failing in one of my most imperious duties if I did not express to you the sentiments of gratitude which your name awakens in the breast of every one belonging to the African race. In assuming the defense of the rights of this people, guided by the meek, generous sentiments of your rich nature, by a sincere love of justice, you have acquired an immortal title to the gratitude of all the descendants of the African race. Please to receive this feeble expression of my high esteem for the noble character of an industrious citizen, and believe in the depth of the sentiments with which I declare, Honorable Senator, your devoted friend,

NISAME SAGET.

The following is Mr. Sumner's answer:

WASHINGTON, July 4, 1873.—I cannot at this late day acknowledge the letter with which you have honored me without explaining the reason of my delay. Owing to my absence in Europe, where I had gone for health, I did not receive your valuable communication until some time in the winter, when it was put in my hands by your excellent minister. Continuing feeble in health, I reluctantly postponed this acknowledgment. I now take advantage of my convalescence to do thus tardily what my feelings prompted at an earlier day. Please, sir, accept my thanks for your generous appreciation of what I have done and your kindness in letting me know it in your own hand. But I beg you to understand that I do not deserve the praise with which you honor me in advocating the cause of an oppressed people. I have only acted according to my conscience. I could not have done otherwise, and now my only regret is that I have done so little. I wish I had done more. In the history of mankind the crime against the African race will stand forth in terrible eminence, always observed and never forgotten. Just in proportion as civilization prevails will this enormous wrong be apparent in its true character, and men will read with astonishment how human beings, guilty only of being black, were sold into slavery, and then such was the continuing injustice towards this unhappy people that, when slavery ceased, they were still treated with indignity by persons whose lordly pretensions were founded on the skin only. As these beings are seen in an increasing light they will be condemned in no uncertain words. Nor will the denial of equal rights on account of color escape the judgment awarded to slavery itself. Human conduct on this question is a measure of character. Where the African race is enslaved or degraded, where it is exposed to any indignity or shut out from that equality which is a primal right of humanity, their civilization is still feeble. To the certain triumph and civilization I look with constant hope. It is sure to come, and one sign of its arrival will be that prevailing sentiment which recognizes the perpetual obligations of equal justice to all and the duty to repair all wrongs by compensation in the future. In the great debt of the whites to the blacks, there is a bank from which for generations to come the latter can draw.

Accept, Mr. President, the expression of my ardent hope for the peace, prosperity and happiness of the Republic of Hayti, and allow me to subscribe myself with true regard your faithful friend,

CHARLES SUMNER.

To the President of Hayti, &c., &c., &c.

PHILADELPHIA.

Note to Foreign Governments Notifying them of the Centennial Celebration.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The following is the form of the note addressed by the Secretary of State to representatives of foreign Governments in the United States:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, July 5th, 1873.

SIR: I have the honor to inclose, for the information of the Government of ——, a copy of the President's proclamation announcing the time and place of holding the International Exhibition of arts, manufactures, and products of the soil and mine, proposed to be held in the year 1876. The exhibition is designed to commemorate the declaration of independence of the United States on the one hundredth anniversary of that interesting and historic national event, and at the same time present a fitting opportunity for such display of the results of art and industry of all nations as will serve to illustrate the great advances attained and success achieved in the interest of progress and civilization during the century which will have then closed. In the law providing for the holding of the exhibition, Congress directed that copies of the proclamation of the President setting forth the time of its opening and the place at which it is to be held, together with such regulations as might be adopted by the Commissioners of the Exhibition, should be communicated to the diplomatic representatives of all nations. Copies of these regulations are herewith transmitted. The President indulges the hope that the Government of —— will be pleased to notice the subject, and may deem it proper to bring the Exhibition and its objects to the attention of the people of that country, and thus encourage their co-operation in the proposed celebration, and he further hopes that the opportunity afforded by the exhibition for the interchange of national sentiment and friendly intercourse between the people of both nations may result in still greater advantages to science and industry, and at the same time serve to strengthen the bonds of peace and good friendship which already happily subsists between the Government and the people of —— and those of the United States.

I have the honor to be, sir, with the highest consideration,

Your obedient servant,
[Signed.] HAMILTON FISH.

Apache Courtship.

Even those copper colored cutthroats, the Apache Indians, have a touch of delicacy and romance in them. From a letter delivered in San Francisco, by Col. John C Carmany, we take the following account of their courting customs: Every young girl is at liberty to refuse a a suitor for her hand. The father, mother and brother are prohibited from interfering in her choice. Her person is at her own disposal. After a short courtship the lover makes a formal proposal by offering so many horses. Horses are standard value among Indians. As the squaw does all the work, horses are accepted as an equivalent for her labor. When a young warrior becomes enamored he fastens the horse near the wigwam of the squaw whose hand he seeks, where he is left for four days. If she fails to feed and water the horse during that time the master is rejected, but if she accepts his offer she grooms and kindly cares for the horse, and then ties him to the wigwam of her lover, as much as to say, "I am willing to be your slave and do your work." At the marriage the sages and sachems meet together, and the bride is not unfrequently loaded with forty or fifty pounds of silver or copper trinklets.

HOME NEWS.

Summer Changes.

Any of our Readers who may desire to have the DAILY GAZETTE mailed to their address, out of town, during the summer months can be accommodated by leaving their names at our business office. Sent to any address for SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS a month.

A Mass Meeting to be Called.

Mention has been previously made of the excitement and opposition which the proposed grade of Fifth avenue has caused among the congregation of St. Paul's Catholic Church. Father Hickey plainly intimated that the movement would be strongly opposed, and now it seems he has taken a step in that direction by calling a mass meeting, to be held next Sunday, to consider the question.

More Dividends.

In our last issue we noted the success and prosperity of some of our financial institutions as evidenced in their "dividends" from the business of the last six months. This morning a few more are added to the list.

Second National Bank of Allegheny, 6 per cent.
Arsenal Bank, 5 per cent.
United Savings Bank, 5 per cent.
Masonic Deposit Savings Bank, 5 per cent.

Fatally Shot.

On Saturday morning, about nine o'clock, a distressing accident occurred at Albion Hill, in the Eighteenth ward. A man named —— Fore was handling a shot gun rather carelessly, not knowing that the weapon was loaded, when it exploded and the charge entered the chest of a boy named McCready, who was standing a few feet away. The injured boy was removed to the house and Drs. Burlinger and Clark summoned to attend him. The physicians think him fatally injured.

Labor Convention.

On the 15th inst. the different labor organizations of the United States will hold a convention in Cleveland. Quite a number of delegates have already been elected from this county and others are to be elected soon. The Typographical Union No. 7, has elected Mr. Wm. S. Meek, as their representative. The blacksmiths and machinists will meet this evening to hold their election, and next week the moulders and glass blowers will meet for the same purpose. The convention seems to be exciting considerable interest.

Condolence.

In common with all other friends we extend our warmest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bakewell, of Allegheny, in the affliction from which they are now suffering. Death has entered their household, and in the removal of the youngest child, for the first time has set its dark seal upon the family and broken the happy home circle. In such an hour human sympathy can avail but little in assuagement of grief, but in so far as it can go, our friends have that sympathy in its deepest sincerity, coupled with the earnest hope that they may find, in fullest measure, that richer and only perfect consolation which comes from a source that is not of earth.

Golden Wedding.

We understand that on the 1st instant, at the mansion of Maj. S. S. Jamison, Saltsburg, Indiana county, when and where the golden wedding of the Major and his excellent wife was made a most joyous affair, a large assemblage of relative and friends felicitated the venerable pair on their new nuptials. We were kindly bidden to this wedding and promised ourselves much pleasure in mingling our congratulations with those of the assembled friends, and growing garrulous with our old friends, the venerable Major, in recounting early memories, but were prevented by untimely illness from making the journey. We hope, nevertheless, that he will come ten years hence to our golden wedding, when we will make up for present disappointments.

Fall of a Building.

On Saturday afternoon a serious accident occurred at the round house of the Connellsville Railroad, in the yard at the foot of Try street. An engine on the "turn table" was about to be backed into the house, when the table became disarranged and the engine having been started it was impossible to check it, and it backed off the track and against the centre arch of the house knocking the support entirely out of place. Just then a fearful crash was heard and the roof of the whole building caved in, carrying with it everything but the main wall next the Monongahela river, which is still standing. There were three engines in the house at the time, but were not much injured. A large force of workmen were at once put to work to clear the debris. The round house was but recently erected at a cost of about $8,000.

Sunday on Penn Avenue.

The cool and pleasant weather of yesterday induced many lovers of horse flesh to take a "drive on the avenue," and the police stationed along the Sunday race course were kept busy in preventing fast driving, runaways and collisions. James McClarren and Hugh Duffy were driving at a more rapid gait than a respectable Sunday trot when officer Wiesenburg hailed them. They paid no attention to the salution, however, and it was only when the officer gave chase in another vehicle that he succeeded in capturing them. They were brought to the central station last evening, when Duffy the owner of the beast, whose fast qualities had gotten them into trouble, sought to establish his innocence by generously offering to "give the old mare to any one in the Mayor's office who could get her out of a trot." But the Captain was unsatisfied, and placed the prisoners in the lock-up.

Military.

The committee appointed by the Duquesne Greys to visit Steubenville and see how the land lay for a camping ground, visited that place on the Fourth, were royally entertained by the chief men of the city, inspected several admirable sites for a camp ground, and returned home unanimously of the opinion that the Greys could find no better place to camp than in the vicinity of Steubenville.

The Tenth Pennsylvania Reserve Corps held a reunion on the Fourth at New Castle, when a permanent organization was effected, and Tuesday, the 3d day of May, 1874, fixed for the next meeting, to be held at Mercer. Captain McConnell, of Company B, was chosen permanent President, and Adjutant McCracken, Secretary. In the afternoon there was a parade, and afterward an address at the Opera House, by Comrade White, a member of the Corps. The occasion was highly enjoyed by all.

St. Clair U. P. Church Dedication.

The members of the St. Clair U. P. church improved the Fourth by assembling their friends and engaging in the dedicatory exercises connected with the formal consecration of their new house of worship. The occasion attracted a very large concourse of people, but as Col. Wm. Espy was at the head of the Committee of Arrangements there was no confusion and no lack of accommodation for the visitors, all of whom received a generous welcome.

In the religious services the pastor, Rev. Mr. Boyd, was assisted by the Rev. T. H. Hanna, of this city, who preached the dedication sermon. Other ministers were also present and aided in the exercises in such a way as to render the occasion memorable for the pleasure it afforded.

After the morning exercises, the ladies of the congregation prepared a feast on the grounds for all, and the entertainment of a gastronomic character thus offered, was universally enjoyed, and unanimously voted, in the way of abundance and variety, a complete success.

Throughout, everything connected with the dedication was admirably managed and the good people of St. Clair will long have occasion to recall the Fourth of '73 as one of the brightest days of memory.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Sad Accident in Allegheny.

On Friday afternoon a distressing accident occurred in Allegheny, resulting, shortly afterwards, in the death of the victim, a little boy but fourteen months old. A Mrs. Langhart, who lives in Pleasant Valley, was engaged in the kitchen, and placed her little boy on the floor, leaving him to amuse himself with some toys. Soon afterwards she took from the stove a bucket of boiling milk and placed it on the floor near the child. The little fellow caught the edge of the bucket and turned it over, the contents pouring over him and scalding him in a dreadful manner. Dr. Boggs was summoned to attend the injured child, and everything possible was done to relieve the sufferings of the little unfortunate, which were intense. On Saturday morning, however, the child's sufferings were relieved by death.

BUTLER STREET.

The Matter in Court—The Application for an Injunction Refused.

The Butler street imbroglio was up in the District Court on Saturday. It will be remembered that a number of citizens residing along the thoroughfare, who object to a wooden pavement, made application for a preliminary injunction to restrain the contractors with proceeding with the work. Saturday morning the case came up for a hearing, and after argument had been heard before Judge Kirkpatrick, the Court refused to grant the injunction on the ground that the contract was legally awarded, the majority having the legal right to so make the award. The meeting of the three Commissioners on the 18th ultimo was a proper one, notice to the remaining two having been given, and they had the authority to transact whatever business the Commission entire had.

There was some talk of taking the matter to the Supreme Court, but no action looking to such a result has yet been taken.

BOY BURGLARS.

Discovered in the Act of Breaking into a Store.

Considerable excitement was caused on Seventh avenue last night, about half-past nine o'clock, by the discovery of a party of burglars in the flour store of F. Schomaker & Co., Nos. 52 and 54 Seventh avenue. The party, which is supposed to have been a branch of the Oyler gang, was composed of five boys or young men, and effected an entrance to the store by removing a pane of glass from one of the windows. Two citizens who were passing along the street discovered them and succeeded in capturing two of them, but influenced by their own pleading for liberty, and the intercession of some "good Samaritans," who were passing along on their way home from church, the boys were released. As soon as they were at a safe distance away, the young thieves changed their tones, and by their jeers and yells made their soft-hearted captors regret exceedingly that they had let them go. During all this time there was not a policeman to be seen, but afterwards some of the members of the Vigilant Engine Company arrived at the scene, and presently Detectives Messner and Herron put in an appearance, and the store was searched. It was found that the burglars had taken out a few articles of little value, when their operations were interrupted.

....Thieves entered the residence of Charles Linmeyer, on Cabinet street, Allegheny, on the "Fourth," about one o'clock in the afternoon, and found the sole occupant of the house a young gentleman, asleep on a sofa. They rudely disturbed his slumbers by a vigorous compression of the throat and an ugly remark to the effect that his brains would be blown out if he made any outcry. He risked the blowing, however, and made such a resistance that the depredators found it convenient to beat a hasty retreat without securing anything.

....The branch telegraph office opened in Messrs. Sill & Son's real estate office, corner of Forty-third and Butler streets, has proven quite a success already, and the business has exceeded every anticipation. It has secured a business that exceeds that of any other branch office in the city now, and there is a gratifying increase daily—which demonstrates the wisdom of opening an office there. There is also the incidental proof of the rapidly growing business in old Lawrenceville, which will compare very favorably with any of the older wards of the city, and seems to indicate that in a few years this section will become the centre of the city.

....Mr. Thomas Thompson desires it to be understood that he had no connection at all with the disturbance which occurred at Miller's boarding house the other evening, and with which he has been erroneously connected by the city press. He was not at the house, but was at home sleeping when the fuss occurred, which resulted in the serious injuries to his son. Upon hearing of the affair, and getting a description of Miller, Mr. Thompson made information against him for deadly assault. Miller was arrested and identified by young Thompson. The only connection the elder Thompson had with the matter was in securing the arrest of Miller, who is charged with the stabbing.

BOATING EVENTS.

Lively Times on the Water.

Amusement of an aquatic nature seems at present at its height, and the remarkable success of our Pittsburgh oarsmen at the Toronto regatta has had a reviving effect in local boating matters. Races have of late been quite numerous, while challenges enough are issued to insure plenty of contests in the future. The single scull race between Denmarsh and Herbster, which was attempted on the Fourth, and resulted in a "foul," came off on Saturday afternoon, on the upper Monongahela course, and was won very easily by Denmarsh, by about three hundred yards.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Barge Club, held on Friday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Alexander Nimick; Vice President, C. C. Montooth; Secretary Fred. Rinehart; Treasurer, W. D. Wilkins; coxswain, H. Denny McKnight; Finance Committee—John A. Harper, W. G. McCandless, James Laughlin, Jr. Boat-house Committee—Thomas P. Day, H. M. Long, W. D. Wilkins. Membership Committee—C. C. Montooth, H. B. Wilkins, Jr., T. C. Clarkson.

A four-oared crew from the Howard Club, of this city, visited Oil City on Friday, and defeated the Oil City crew with very little effort. The race was over a three mile course for two hundred dollars per side.

At the Boston regatta, which took place on the Charles river on the Fourth, the first prize in the single scull race was won by Eph. Morris, of the Clipper Boat Club of this city. The race was over a course of two miles, for a prize of one hundred dollars, and, as the Pittsburgher contended against James Teneyck and other first-class oarsmen, he may justly feel prroud of his victory. His time was 14 minutes and 46¼ seconds. Teneyck won the second prize.

The regatta to be given by the Columbia club on the last Saturday in August promises to be an extremely interesting one. The prizes are eight gold medals, to be given as follows: One each for the first and second single scull, one each for the first and second double scull, and one to each member of the winning four-oared crew.

Frank Denmarsh, of the McKee club, has expressed himself as not satisfied with his defeat at Toronto, and has challenged Luther, who defeated him, to row a three mile race for two hundred dollars per side. A. Seibert, of the Clipper club has issued a challenge to Denmarsh to row a three mile race, single scull, for two hundred dollars or more a side. As these challenges will probably be accepted, and others are soon to be issued, contests on the water will probably be quite numerous the remainder of the season.

THE "FOURTH."

A Pleasant Day and a Quiet Celebration.

If we except the profound reverence which Young America paid to the ponderous official pronunciamentos against the waste of powder, there was nothing worthy of special note to mark the celebration of the national holiday in our community. The public demonstration consisted principally of the circus men's parade, which was "resplendent," as such demonstrations usually are. The usual inclination for pedestrianating through the streets seemed to be very measurably checked, and the crowds on the streets never very greatly interfered with free locomotion anywhere. Picnics and woodland festivities possessed the largest measure of attraction to city and to rural folks as well, and the gatherings in the leafy groves were innumerable, and so far as reports came in, enjoyable. The rain of the afternoon it was thought would sadly disarrange plans for felicity in the woods, but the gentle shower had the reverse effect as it cooled the air, laid the dust, and added to the fortuitous influences of the occasion.

During the day business houses, large and small, were generally closed, and all who could get away conveniently left the heat and dust of the city behind them. The urchins, utterly oblivious to the gravity of the offense, indulged to an unusual degree in burning powder, and thus giving vent in smoke and noise to youthful exuberance of patriotism. In either city, and on any street, there was hardly an hour of the day in which the snap of the cracker or the torpedo was not heard, with an occasional variation from the revolver, and yet but few accidents occurred, and these not specially worthy of note.

In the evening the pyrotechnic display was quite creditable, and would compare very favorably with the best fiery demonstrations of other years.

The places of amusement which were open during the afternoon and evening, especially during the evening, were royally patronized, and managerial felicity was elevated to the highest altitude by the swelling receipts.

Generally it may be set down that the day was one of enjoyment—genuine and hearty,—if not so boisterous as has marked similar occasions in other years.

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

The Shenango and Allegheny Railroad—Prospects of the Enterprise.

The new Railroad enterprise in Butler County—the Shenango and Allegheny Railroad—is very flatteringly spoken of by the Butler Citizen from which we glean a few facts. This railroad company was incorporated by the legislature of Pennsylvania in '46, as the Bear Creek R. R. Company, and its name subsequently changed to Shenango and Allegheny Railroad. The road begins on the waters of Shenango near Greenville, Mercer county, and will terminate at the Allegheny river near Brady's Bend Iron Works. At present the track is completed in Mercer county and a portion of Butler county, and this section is being operated. The freightage amounts to about six hundred teems of coal daily, and about fifteen hundred tons of oil. The passenger travel has been quite extensive upon it, and the local and coal freights have been much greater than the officers of the road expected.

The road connects with the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad and Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad, near Greenville, having, from the Shenango Junction, connection with roads extending to Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo and New York. The majority of the stock is owned by James McHenry, Esq., of London, who was formerly a citizen of Butler county, and by certain English parties largely connected with the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company. It is said that the company have determined to extend the road from its present terminus to the Allegheny river, at or near Brady's Bend Iron Works, and that the same has been let to Harris, Bros., & Co., of Vermont, and that they have sub-let the same in sections of three miles each. Work has commenced all along the line, and it is expected that the grading will be done and ready for the rails by the first of October next.

Of the prospects for paying the Citizen says: "The minerals of coal, limestone, iron-ore and oil, on the route of the road, and in fact all along the northern portion of our county, are not surpassed in any part of Pennsylvania; and we do not hesitate to say that when this road is finished it will pay largely to its stockholders, and materially advance the prosperity and largely increase the wealth of Butler county. The northern portion of our county will be particularly benefitted, and we hope that the day is not distant when a connection with it will be made by the road now terminating here."

The Hoboken Savings Bank.

A new banking institution under the name given above has commenced operations at No. 176 Liberty street, and under auspices which augur well for its success. The new enterprise is endowed with a very liberal charter, which possesses some new features of peculiar advantage to such an institution. It is further in the hands of a number of gentlemen—as will be seen by the list of Directors published elsewhere—whose names connected with any organization either in business or social life are a sure guarantee of its genuine character and a presage of success. The banking head-quarters for the "Hoboken" have been very handsomely fitted up, and business men will find the location convenient and every accommodation afforded in the way of negotiating paper, receiving interest, making collections, exchanges, &c. Capt. R. Robinson—than whom none stand higher in our community for the possession of all those qualities which are essential in the head of such an enterprise—has been selected as President. Mr. John Murphy, a gentleman who is well known in business circles, and just as universally esteemed as he is known, has been selected as Cashier.

It is an institution which we can heartily recommend to depositors, large or small. The officers have very judiciously reserved a small portion of the stock for those who may wish to own shares and have a voice in the management of the bank in which they deposit. This is an advantage which business men will appreciate, and be not slow to take advantage of. The "Hoboken" has already met with great success, and its future is one full of promise.

The new method of curing Rupture will be exhibited to our citizens at the Monongahela Hotel in Pittsburgh on the 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th days of July, 1873. A physician from the ELASTIC TRUSS CO., No. 683 Broadway, New York, will apply the New Truss at office prices in New York. There was a sort of providential felicity in the invention of the new Remedy for Rupture. The people waited long in darkness, and despairing hope when the new Elastic Truss greeted their delighted vision. This new Truss retains the rupture in safety and comfort, night and day, in every case. Examine this new Truss while you have this great opportunity. 5,8,10-s

DOWN THE RIVER.

The June Rise in July—Two Million Bushels of Black Diamonds Shipped Yesterday.

The river men this year had begun to despair of seeing the customary "June rise," which is always a season of rejoicing among them, and is considered a refreshing oasis in the desert of the sand bars and shoals of the Ohio. On Saturday night, however, the river began to rise in a way that indicated the approach of sufficient water to float out the large quantity of coal which was ready for the voyage. Yesterday morning the river continued to rise, and the reports from above were sufficiently encouraging to induce the boatmen to start with their barges to the lower markets. During the day matters about the wharf were remarkably lively, and the scene which but a few hours before was one of dullness and quiet was changed to a very animated one.

The boats managed to get started with very little difficulty or confusion, and but one accident. The steamer Coal Valley, while on her way down, having nine barges in tow, was passing Saw Mill run, when the Storm was rounding out from the shore towards the channel. The Storm struck one of the barges of the Coal Valley, sinking it almost immediately.

The boats and barges which started yesterday with the amount of coal they took, as near as could be learned, are as follows:

Name.	Bushels.
JOSEPH WALTON & CO.
Coal City, 14 barges	100,000
Bengal Tiger, 10 barges	100,000
Niagara, 10 barges	100,000
Gipsey, 6 barges	100,000
O'NEILL & CO.
F. Wilson, 10 barges	100,000
O'NEILL & OLIVER.
Lake Erie, 9 barges	90,000
DUNCAN, CORNELL & CO.
My Choice, 9 barges	90,000
Little Giant, 6 barges	50,000
Leopard, 8 barges	80,000
COAL VALLEY COAL COMPANY.
Joseph A. Stone, 8 barges	88,000
Coal Valley, 9 barges	90,000
William Stone, 6 barges	60,000
WM H. BROWN.
Charley Brown, 10 barges	100,000
Lioness, 10 barges	100,000
THOS. FAWCETT & SON.
Boaz, 10 barges	100,000
BAILEY & CO.
Whale, 9 barges	90,000
SAM CABLE.
Tom Rees, 7 barges	77,000
SIMPSON HORNER & SONS.
Sam Parker, 8 barges	88,000
Ella, 8 barges	80,000
Evan Williams, 5 barges	50,000
Hornet, 7 barges	70,000
JOHN C. RISHER & CO.
Lion, 9 barges	100,000
Total	1,903,000

The destination of the coal is Louisville and Cincinnati, and it will be divided about equally between the two points. Last evening at six o'clock the river was at a stand with eight feet nine inches in the channel. Reports from up the river, however, seemed favorable for more water, and the boats will probably get over the shallow places in safety.

BARNUM.

His Arrival in Town—Preparations for To-day—The Procession.

Yesterday Barnum arrived in town with his "immense aggregation" transported in three trains. The event created considerable excitement in the city and in the vicinity of Union Park, Allegheny, hundreds of people gathered in the afternoon to witness the unloading of the "show." This business was completed without any mishaps, and to-day the "World's Fair," which is the ephonious title selected for the aggregation, will open for visitors. Previous to the exhibition there will be a grand procession when the following route will be traversed: The procession will form on Union Park at 8 o'clock and cross Suspension Bridge, passing from 8th street to Market; thence to Water, to Smithfield, up Fifth avenue, to Federal street, to Wylie, to Fifth avenue, to Market and Sixth streets, to Suspension bridge, returning to at grounds Union Park. There will be two exhibitions given to-day, an afternoon and an evening performance. After to-day three performances will be given each day. The attractions of the show will be seen by reference to our advertising columns.

HOW TO BAFFLE DISEASE.

The man who puts a bullet through his head dies more speedily than he who is continually sending volleys of strong cathartic pills down his throat; but the drastic pellets are as fatal in the end as the leaden ball. It is only a question of time. Common sense should teach every body that the idea of expelling disease by subverting the bodily vigor which is its natural antagonist, is supremely absurd. There should be no purgation without invigoration and regulation. These three processes should go on together and they do so in all cases where Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used as a remedy for disease or for the general debility growing out of a torpid state of the digestive and secretive organs. In this great vegetable restorative are mingled three essential elements of cure: a purifying element, a tonic element, and an anti-bilious element. By these means dyspepsia, bilious disorders, intermittent fevers, sick headache, constipation, and nervous debility are readily cured and epidemic disease prevented.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A VERMONTER writes to a California paper protesting against the introduction of the yellow perch into the Pacific States. He pronounces them to be small, bony, tasteless, prickly as a porcupine, and prolific as the locust of Egypt; and declares they would soon drive all other fish from their vicinity.

LATEST advices from Algeria say that general consternation prevails in the agricultural districts, because of a fearful invasion of grasshoppers, which in twenty-four hours destroyed, in one district only, the amount of four millions of francs in wheat. The troops have been ordered to destroy the millions of calamitous insects, with petroleum oil spread on the fields.

PEOPLE who are foolish enough to risk their money in betting on horses should be taught caution by a witness at a recent trial of a horse case, in Springfield, Mass. The witness was a well-known horse trainer, and edified the Court with a description of how the best horses are made to come in last, and quoted a number of instances in which this method of cheating had been practised.

THE visit of the Governor General of Canada to Long Branch next month will be one of the incidents of the season there. The peculiarity of this distinguished servant of the Crown is that he has never tasted a genuine American whisky cock-tail. At Long Branch these productions, of which our country is so justly proud, are to be found in such abundance that they may almost be said to grow wild. His Excellency has selected the very spot where he can enjoy them in their utmost perfection.

THE vicissitudes of political power in the South American States are likely to have another illustration in Guatemala. Gen. Barrios, who gained some commendation by introducing freedom of worship in that State, is likely to be overthrown. If the revolutionary movement by which he is threatened is as successful in his State as in Honduras, where it originated, a severe blow will be given to the liberal development of the country which began under such favorable circumstances.

SINCE 1871 endeavors have been made to have a railroad bridge built across the Hudson at Poughkeepsie; in 1872 a charter for erecting the piers in the river was obtained from the Legislature, and on Monday last the subscription for erecting the bridge was headed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company with $1,100,000—$550,000 in the name of Mr. A. L. Dennis, one of the directors of the road, and $550,000 in that of Mr. J. Edgar Thompson, its president. The books have been opened for further subscription, and it is probable that work on the bridge will be at once begun.

MENAGERIE.

Great Traveling World's Fair
Its magnitude no man who has not seen it can comprehend, for there was absolutely
Nothing Like it Ever Known on Earth!!
It is absolutely large enough to entirely swallow up half a dozen of the so called largest shows advertised in this country. The entire vast Exposition will exhibit in
UNION PARK, ALLEGHENY CITY,
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, July 7, 8, 9 and 10,

Giving 2 entertainments Monday, the first day, Afternoon and Evening, and 3 grand, full and complete performances of the entire TWENTY GREAT SHOWS each subsequent day, Morning, Afternoon and Evening. Doors open at 10 A. M., and 1 and 6½ P. M.

One single ticket, 50 cents, admits to all. Children under nine years of age, 25 cents. Reserved Amphitheatre Seats, 75 cents.

In order to accommodate the 200,000 persons who will probably visit this Exhibition during its four days' sojourn in Pittsburgh, A GRAND WOODEN BUILDING, similar to the ancient ROMAN AMPHITHEATRE, will be erected in Union Park, at a cost of $5,000, contiguous to the Colossal Hippodrome Pavilions, with choice reserved seats overlooking the entire audience, giving full view of the separate Circus and Spectacular Rings, with a joint seating capacity for 16,000 people. The entire series of exhibitions are briefly summed up in the following startling but bona fide announcement:

100,000 Living, Historical and Representative Curiosities.
1,500 Animals, Birds, Reptiles and Marine Monsters.
100 Magnificent Cages, Dens and Vans.
12 Gorgeous Statuary Chariots.
5 Trains of Railroad Cars required to Transport P. T. Barnum's Moving World's Fair.
Daily Expenses Exceed the Gross Receipts of Half a Dozen other Shows.
3 Great Circus Troupes.
3 separate and distinct Circus Rings, all in full performance at the same time
Living Sea Lions and Marine Monsters.
Prof. Faber's $20,000 Talking Machine.
Wild Fiji Cannibals.
Horse Riding Goats.
Admiral Dot, famous Californian Dwarf, 16 years old, 25 inches high, weighs 15 lbs.
4 Asiatic and African Elephants.
4 Brass Bands and Chariot Organs.
Procession nearly 3 miles long.
20 Colossal Pavilions and the Great Amphitheatre Building occupy 6 full squares.
Black Rhinoceros, large as an Elephant.
1,200 Men and Horses.
70 First-class Performers.
6 Famous Clowns, including the celebrated Liliputian Grimaldi. Commodore Nutt, besides thousands of the most intensely interesting novel features well worth the whole price of admission to see, not mentioned at all in this advertisement.

In fact it will not require more than one glance at Mr. Barnum's New Amusement Enterprise to thoroughly satisfy the public as to the relative difference between an ABSOLUTE GRAND, MAGNIFICENT, FIRST-CLASS EXHIBITION,
And an ordinary show. However, to stop cavil and close the mouths of boasting charlatans and traveling mountebanks, Mr. Barnum, however averse to step aside from his life-long policy, deems it necessary, in order to protect himself and the public, to offer a series of $1,500,000 Challenges, Open to All the World,
That he exhibits daily more BEWILDERING ATTRACTIONS, STARTLING CURIOSITIES, UNIQUE and SENSATIONAL NOVELTIES, biological, animate and inanimate prodigies, and lusus naturæ, more Rare Living Wild Animals, Birds, Beasts, Reptiles, Crocodiles, Alligators, LIVING SEA LIONS, and other Marine Monsters, the greatest number of first-class Artists, a more Gorgeous and Unique Combination of Equestrian and Hippodromatic Exposition than are contained in the combined attractions of any three shows in the United States.

The unanimous sentiment of the public press everywhere on the line of exhibition emphasize the fact that P. T. BARNUM'S
ENTIRELY NEW SHOW
Is Positively the Largest and most attractive Combination of Exhibitions (fully three times larger than that of last season), ever known on earth, and remains absolutely without a parallel in the history of the world.

The only exhibition in America recognized and indorsed by the religious press, and daily visited by eminent clergymen and divines.

FREE ADMISSION to the entire Great Show is guaranteed to all who buy the life of P. T. Barnum, written by himself, 860 pages, illustrated. Reduced from $3.50 to $1.50.

"Worth a $100 Greenback to a beginner."—Horace Greeley.

Will also exhibit in Corry, Pa., July 4; Titusville, July 5; Rochester, July 11; Youngstown, Ohio, July 12; and Cleveland, July 14, 15 and 16.

The daily expenses of this establishment have become so great that the FREE LIST has been positively suspended except to Clergymen and the Members of the Press. jy1:3-jy3,4s,7,od
